ICY RAILS, ENGINE SAILS. This Pennsylvania Railroad diesel locomotive skidded off tracks near the 6th St. crossing in Chester this morning, its train of 36 cars blocking the crossing and another at 5th St. for over two hours. The front wheels of the engine slipped off the snow and ice clogged tracks at the crossing. Residents of the Mill Addition and Meadowcrest areas were isolated from the rest of the city until the crossings were cleared about 9:30.

Traffic Toll For Holiday Passes 200

Belated Reports May Boost Total; Under Yule Figure

By The Associated Press

The nation's traffic deaths for the midweek New Year's holiday, totaling more than 200, exceeded estimates of safety experts but was far below last week's Christmas toll.

The number of persons killed in traffic accidents during the 48-hour holiday period which ended at midnight Wednesday was 209. Belated reports were expected to boost the total.

However, the toll appeared no larger than the daily average of 117 traffic fatalities reported during the first 11 months of 1963.

The National Safety Council had estimated in advance of the holiday that between 140 and 180 persons might be killed in traffic mishaps from 6 p.m. New Year's Eve to midnight Wednesday—a 30-hour period.

Council President Howard Pyle said Wednesday night that the final figures "definitely will go beyond this estimate." The Associated Press count showed that nearly 200 traffic fatalities were reported during the 30-hour period defined by the council.

There were 316 highway deaths during last week's 48-hour Christmas holiday while 382 persons died in traffic accidents during the 1962-63 New Year's weekend holiday of four days.

The holiday traffic death toll compared to a total of 170 fatalities reported in an Associated Press survey for a nonholiday period of 48 hours, from 12:01 a.m. Tuesday, Dec. 10 to 12:01 a.m. Thursday, Dec. 12.

13 Deaths Reported

Parts Of South Remain In Grip Of 16-Inch Snow

By The Associated Press

Unaccustomed to the bite of severe winter weather, parts of the Deep South remained in the grip of a storm Thursday that dumped as much as 16 inches of snow on some areas before moving up the Eastern Seaboard New Year's Day.

Moderating temperatures were expected to give some relief to the paralyzing ice and snow that swept northward from the Gulf of Mexico across Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia and into the Carolinas, Tennessee and Virginia.

There were 13 deaths directly attributed to the weather.

Schools were closed in many sections and some colleges postponed registration for the new term.

Driving conditions remained hazardous in areas where refreezing left patches of ice on highways.

In Georgia, Civil Defense headquarters received requests for aid from several north and middle Georgia towns as broken power lines left some communities without electricity and communications were disrupted.

About 300 persons were fed at an emergency kitchen set up in a school at Warner Robins in middle Georgia. High winds wrecked a fishing pier at Savannah Beach on the Georgia coast.

Huntsville, Ala., recorded one of the heaviest snowfalls in Dixie—16 inches. Eight inches at Birmingham, Ala., was the heaviest snowfall on records there dating back to 1895.

Snowmen appeared in the French Quarter of New Orleans, site of the Sugar Bowl football game, where more than three inches of snow ushered in the new year—again the most since 1895. A warming trend over Louisiana and Mississippi left deep slush that was expected to turn to ice during the night.

The 10-inch snowfall at Nashville, Tenn.—deepest since 1929—resulted in closing the city's airport until noon today. Lawrenceburg recorded 16 inches and Columbia had 15.

President Also To Ask Comprehensive Housing Program

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson is said to favor an unrelenting peace offensive in 1964.

A White House source reported that Johnson is determined to seek new breakthroughs on peace and does not think the United States can or should wait until after the November presidential balloting before pressing ahead in this area.

The source made available to newsmen Wednesday a summary of what was described as Johnson's views on a broad range of topics. Some of the material was provided on condition it not be made public until today.

Among key attitudes attributed to Johnson were these:

The President plans to propose a comprehensive housing program and will discuss this today at his ranch home with Administrator Robert C. Weaver of the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Johnson expects Congress to pass a civil rights bill this year, as well as an $11 billion tax cut. He also would like to see passage of a program to provide medical assistance for the elderly.

Government officials will be expected to work hard and avoid the cocktail party circuit.

Johnson is pleased with the results of his economy-in-government drive and believes the stage is set for further savings in the budget that will go to Congress in January 1965. He believes fiscal prudence is, in the informant's words, "no longer a rich man's issue."

The President has profound respect for Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and also is greatly impressed by Gen. Maxwell Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Earlier Wednesday Johnson told Soviet Premier Khrushchev in a message that the time for talking peace has passed and "1964 should be a year in which we take further steps toward that goal."

Snow Follows Ice Storm And Traffic Halts

State Crews Still Spread Cinders As Roads Remain Slick

New Year skidded into East Liverpool on a 2-inch snow that covered icy surfaces after a sleet storm and freezing rain ushered in the holiday. Traffic was virtually paralyzed in the forenoon.

Some parts of the district got up to 4 inches of new snow but several communities in Ohio were still digging out of as much as 12 to 13 inches in the first wintry blast of 1964.

The holiday dawned with a sleet storm that turned to rain, freezing as it struck parked cars, trees and shrubbery and coating streets and highways with a glaze.

Then snow fell heavily at times for two or three hours, then tapering to flurries occasionally dense.

A number of schools scheduled to reopen today after the yearend vacation, decided to remain closed.

The State Highway Department garage at Leetonia had 15 crews on the job as the icing started about 8 a. m. Wednesday and they continued cindering and scraping until late yesterday.

Most crews returned to the highways last night after the snow finally stopped and a number of the trucks were back on the job today. The highway garage reported 4 inches of new snow. Five trucks stationed in the East Liverpool area scattered more cinders this morning.

Motorists, apprehensive about the ice and snow - covered roads in the district, did very

Hall, Aides Take Over City Posts

With the help of Council and other elected officials, the new Republican administration will "move in the direction the city wants to go," Mayor Merrill D. Hall told a crowd of over 50 Wednesday morning after taking the oath of office in traditional inaugural ceremonies at City Hall.

Despite freezing rain and a heavy snow that followed, the Council chamber was filled almost to capacity by friends and relatives and city employes as officials - elect received the oath of office from Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff for the 1964-65 biennium.

"YOU HAVE placed lives and property in our hands for at least two years," Hall told the crowd. "I have hope and faith in the future, I ask continued co-operation and God's guidance. Without either I am helpless.

"I look forward to a successful term because of you," he said, addressing the crowd." With the assistance of Council and the other elected officials, we will move in the direction the city wants to go."

The new mayor also introduced Robert E. Vodrey, who will become his safety - service director Jan. 13, and Mrs. Ruth Crawford, who will be his secretary. He commented that some of his relatives from out of town who expected to attend the ceremony were turned back by bad highways.

Hall picked up the reins of city government relinquished by Mayor Bert H. Goodballet, Democrat, at midnight Tuesday. Goodballet had served two successive two - year terms.

Chertoff also administered the oath to these officials:

COUNCIL President George E. Willshaw, Republican; Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper, Democrat, and Treasurer Bert A. Dawson, Republican; plus these councilmen: Robert W. Sample Jr., Republican, and Donald S. Hancock, Democrat, both members-at-large; Floyd L. Murray of the First Ward, Democrat; and William E. Davis of the Fourth Ward, also a Democrat.

Two of the new councilmen were unable to attend because they were at work. They are Norman R. Bucher, member-at-large, and Donald E. Smith of the Third Ward, both Democrats. They had taken the oath of office previously.

The Second Ward seat remains vacant because of the death of Kenneth C. Berg, Republican, shortly after he had been elected to a new term in November. The 1962-63 Council named his widow, Mrs. Betty Berg, to serve until Dec. 31.

ALSO absent was Lawrence J. Zollinger, new city auditor. A Republican, he was unable to attend because he is convalescing at home after recent surgery at City Hospital. He also took the oath of office earlier.

E. Allan McKeever, Zollinger's new chief deputy, and Mrs. Elizabeth Oliver, clerk, will be in charge of the office until Zollinger reports for duty, probably next Monday.

Willshaw explained the new Council delayed organization procedure until the first regular meeting Monday night.

It will elect a new Second Ward councilman to fill the vacancy created by Mr. Berg's death and name a new clerk to

Trustworthy Scholars Due Defense Data

New Standard Rule Given By Pentagon; Security Check Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has issued a new standard rule under which classified defense information may be opened to "trustworthy" scholars and others engaged in historical research, it was learned today.

The rule, in effect, requires such private citizens to pass the same kind of a security check as is given to civilian workers for the Defense Department.

This means a search of their background for any possible criminal or subversive record or connection.

"It treats these researchers from the security standpoint as though they were employes of the department," one official explained.

Until recently, each of the armed services and defense agencies imposed its own standards on outside researchers seeking access to classified material.

Some standards were stiff, some lenient. Some caused needless embarrassment, officials said.

The new rule applies throughout the Defense Department and is aimed at laying down uniform security clearance requirements for researchers.

It was inserted about two weeks ago into a 1957 directive on "safeguarding official information in the interests of the defense of the United States."

Officials said the clearance requirements will be minimum.

The new regulation calls for steps "to assure that classified defense information is not published or otherwise compromised."

Hancock Schools, City Parochial Still Shut

Hancock County schools did not reopen today but will resume classes under the new time schedule Monday.

St. Aloysius Parochial School also decided against resuming today because of slippery conditions of roads traveled by school buses but hopes to resume classes Friday morning. The Immaculate Conception Parochial School at Wellsville resumed.

Midland schools and those in Western Beaver at Industry and Southern Beaver at Hookstown reopened today despite road conditions. All other district schools are slated to resume classees Monday after the yearend holiday vacation.

Hancock Supt. Robert Hall was not available for comment and his office was unable to say whether the delay in reopening Hancock schools resulted from the danger of bus travel or confusion attendant to new hours and bus schedules at Oak Glen and Weir High Schools being used for the first time.

Hall Achieves Early Start In Mayor's Post

Achieving an early start in his first full day on the job, Mayor Merrill D. Hall arrived at City Hall shortly after 8:30 this morning, nearly a half hour ahead of most other employes and officials.

But the new mayor indicated it was not pressing business, just a habit of early rising, that got him on the job so early. His first appointment was a conference with Dog Warden Robert Croyle.

Woman Dies, 2 Sons Injured In Collision

BEAVER — Two Detroit youths remain in Providence Hospital in Beaver Falls with injuries suffered in a Pennsylvania Turnpike collision that claimed their mother Wednesday afternoon in Big Beaver Borough.

Mrs. Edna Wallenmaier, 50, was pronounced dead of a broken neck at the hospital, where Thomas Wallenmaier, 22, was listed in "good" condition and Michael Wallenmaier, 18, in "fairly good" condition. The older youth was the driver of their car which skidded out of control on the snow - slicked road into the path of a truck driven by Louis Hooten, 33, of New Carlisle, Ind., who was unhurt, according to the Pennsylvania State Police.

Makarios Drives To Nip Turk Role

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Archbishop Makarios, Greek Cypriot president of Cyprus, has begun a campaign to end Turkey's special role in Cyprus, granted by the island's 1960 independence treaties.

Charging Turkey with "aggressive actions" in the communal strife between Greek and Turkish Cypriots, Makarios announced Wednesday night he would seek to dissolve agreements under which Britain, Greece and Turkey guarantee Cyprus' sovereignty.

The treaties with all three governments are interlocked, and all three must be abrogated to get rid of the agreement with Turkey. But Makarios and other members of his government have made plain the Turkish government is the object of their ire.

The action came amid fresh bloodshed on the 12th day since strife between the island's Greek majority and Turkish minority turned violent. Three monks were killed and another three wounded in a raid Wednesday on a Greek Orthodox monastery 25 miles southwest of Nicosia. Survivors said five or six Turkish Cypriots made the raid.

Britain, now acting as peacemaker and policeman for its former colony, feared new reprisals by Turkish Cypriots if Makarios upsets the delicately arranged treaties without consultation with all sides.

In Turkey's capital, Ankara, a Foreign Ministry spokesman said his government stood by the treaties and promised "we

Wellsville's Post Office To Be Dedicated

A dedication program will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 at the Daw Junior High School for Wellsville's new $120,000 Post Office.

The program had been scheduled for November, but was postponed because of the assassination of President Kennedy.

The Wellsville Chamber of Commerce is arranging the program. John Bryer, president, will be master of ceremonies.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays and William J. Rahter of Cincinnati, assistant to the regional director of the Postal Department, will be guest speakers. Rahter is the son of Mrs. Mary Rahter, Wellsville Council president.

After the program at the school, a flag - raising ceremony will be held at the new facility at 11th and Main Sts. A 50-star flag will be presented to Postmaster E. J. Evans by Rep. Hays, who advised officials that it has been flown

Mayor, Council Present

Wellsville Officials Given Oath In New Year's Rites

Wellsville's city officials received their oaths of office at a ceremony Wednesday morning at City Hall.

Incumbent Mayor William Daugherty administered the oath to Solicitor William Bush, who also was re-elected in November.

Bush then gave the oath to Auditor Edgar S. Davidson, Treasurer Tom Grafton, members of City Council and the mayor.

Councilman Walter E. Henthorn of the Fourth Ward was not present. He will be sworn in at the regular meeting Tuesday night at 7:30.

Members of the Council present were Mrs. Mary C. Rahter, president; Aguin Bowling, First Ward; Dwight MacLean, Second Ward; Nunzio S. Lombardozzi, Third Ward, and Meryle D. Kenney, Jerry Russell and Paul T. Todd, all members at-large.

Mrs. Rahter and MacLean are the only two incumbents on Council. Mrs. Rahter, Lombardozzi and Henthorne are Democrats and the remainder Republicans.

Russell indicated he will resign his post. He has moved his family to Leetonia, where he is employed, but has maintained a local address in order to continue as a councilman.

A clerk will be elected at the meeting Tuesday night. Russell's seat also will be filled, if he submits his resignation.

Lloyd Rhodes, editor of the Wellsville Press, and Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare witnessed the ceremony.

To Introduce Own Plan

6 Of GOP Hope To Crack Medical Care Stalemate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Six Republican senators say they hope to crack the stalemate on health care for the aged legislation by introducing their own plan when Congress reconvenes next week.

They described it as the most comprehensive health care program ever prepared for Congress and said it would make use of both Social Security funds and general government revenues, and private insurance companies.

Health care legislation will likely set off one of the big battles in Congress this election year.

President Johnson is expected to press hard for passage of the bill—or a version of it—which the late President John F. Kennedy was unable to push through Congress.

The six Republicans said in a statement Wednesday that GOP votes will be needed to pass a health care bill this year and "we sincerely believe that the bill we are preparing will offer the effective basis for such an agreement."

"We feel," they added, "that the health care needs of our 18 million citizens over 65 have been too long neglected, and that the Congress must resolve this problem in 1964."

Ursu Will Run For Engineer

Filings Now Total 4 For County Offices

John Ursu of Salem, a self-employed engineer - surveyor, has filed with the County Election Board to seek the Democratic nomination for county engineer in the May 5 primaries.

Ursu sought the same post unsuccessfully four years ago, losing to Charles O. Snyder, Republican.

Confirming previous announcements, Edward W. Mallery of Salem, the city's new safety director, has entered officially for sheriff on the Democratic ticket. Mallery retired recently as head of the State Highway Patrol Post at Lisbon.

The two entries raise to four the number officially entered for the primaries. The earlier filings were: State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel of Lisbon, Republican, and Coroner William A. Kolozsi of Salem, Democrat, both seeking new terms.

Feb. 5 is the filing deadline for the primaries.

Mayor, Council Present

Wellsville Officials Given Oath In New Year's Rites

Wellsville's city officials received their oaths of office at a ceremony Wednesday morning at City Hall.

Incumbent Mayor William Daugherty administered the oath to Solicitor William Bush, who also was re-elected in November.

Bush then gave the oath to Auditor Edgar S. Davidson, Treasurer Tom Grafton, members of City Council and the mayor.

Councilman Walter E. Henthorn of the Fourth Ward was not present. He will be sworn in at the regular meeting Tuesday night at 7:30.

Members of the Council present were Mrs. Mary C. Rahter, president; Aguin Bowling, First Ward; Dwight MacLean, Second Ward; Nunzio S. Lombardozzi, Third Ward, and Meryle D. Kenney, Jerry Russell and Paul T. Todd, all members at-large.

Mrs. Rahter and MacLean are the only two incumbents on Council. Mrs. Rahter, Lombardozzi and Henthorne are Democrats and the remainder Republicans.

Russell indicated he will resign his post. He has moved his family to Leetonia, where he is employed, but has maintained a local address in order to continue as a councilman.

A clerk will be elected at the meeting Tuesday night. Russell's seat also will be filled, if he submits his resignation.

Lloyd Rhodes, editor of the Wellsville Press, and Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare witnessed the ceremony.

To Introduce Own Plan

6 Of GOP Hope To Crack Medical Care Stalemate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Six Republican senators say they hope to crack the stalemate on health care for the aged legislation by introducing their own plan when Congress reconvenes next week.

They described it as the most comprehensive health care program ever prepared for Congress and said it would make use of both Social Security funds and general government revenues, and private insurance companies.

Health care legislation will likely set off one of the big battles in Congress this election year.

President Johnson is expected to press hard for passage of the bill—or a version of it—which the late President John F. Kennedy was unable to push through Congress.

The six Republicans said in a statement Wednesday that GOP votes will be needed to pass a health care bill this year and "we sincerely believe that the bill we are preparing will offer the effective basis for such an agreement."

"We feel," they added, "that the health care needs of our 18 million citizens over 65 have been too long neglected, and that the Congress must resolve this problem in 1964."

Ursu Will Run For Engineer

Filings Now Total 4 For County Offices

John Ursu of Salem, a self-employed engineer - surveyor, has filed with the County Election Board to seek the Democratic nomination for county engineer in the May 5 primaries.

Ursu sought the same post unsuccessfully four years ago, losing to Charles O. Snyder, Republican.

Confirming previous announcements, Edward W. Mallery of Salem, the city's new safety director, has entered officially for sheriff on the Democratic ticket. Mallery retired recently as head of the State Highway Patrol Post at Lisbon.

The two entries raise to four the number officially entered for the primaries. The earlier filings were: State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel of Lisbon, Republican, and Coroner William A. Kolozsi of Salem, Democrat, both seeking new terms.

Feb. 5 is the filing deadline for the primaries.

Bridge Crash Injures Pair

A Rogers man and a Chester woman were injured in a side-swipe crash on the Chester Bridge early Wednesday morning, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

John Falkner, 34, of Rogers R. D. 1 was driving east, and Herman Glenn Dingess, 46, of 848 St. George St. was headed west when their cars collided about a third of a mile east of the city limits, officers said.

Falkner suffered a laceration of the lower lip and Elsie Rosetta Gamble, 28, of 408 1st St., Chester, a passenger in his car, received laceration and abrasions of the knees. Both were treated at City Hospital.

There was moderate damage to Falkner's 1956 sedan and Dingess' 1949 sedan. The mishap was timed at 2:45 a. m.

Dingess was cited for lack of a driver's license.

Snow Follows Sleet Storm

little traveling, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

There was only one mishap reported — that on the Chester Bridge and before the snow began — the patrol said.

Slick roads tied up traffic this morning, including however, the Route 30 Cannons Mill hill.

At 9:15 a. m. a motorist reported six tractor-trailer trucks halted eastbound near Huston Pl. with 16 trucks at the bottom of the hill, and several trucks and cars halted westbound toward Super 30 Drive-In.

Area streets and highways virtually were deserted yesterday morning — a combination of the holiday lull and the worst driving conditions of the season.

The few drivers who ventured out found conditions treacherous, with ice underlying a coating of half - frozen snow. Shortly before noon, conditions worsened as the heavy snow continued.

Major thoroughfares and grades in the city were passable for the most part yesterday, but secondary streets were covered with a glare of ice and snow that made driving hazardous at best.

Despite the work of street department crews, conditions improved very little by late afternoon. The continuing snow in the early afternoon undid most of the city crews' work.

Graders and snow plows were used on some of the city's major thoroughfares and ahes and salt were spread liberally in other spots — particularly on grades and at intersections.

In East Liverpool, street department crews were called out at 8:30 a. m. yesterday and worked continually until 8 p. m.

By yesterday afternoon, state snowplows had removed the accumulation from major highways in the immediate area, including the Freeway, Routes 30 and 170 and the Y. & O. Rd. But a base of hard - packed snow and ice still covered the pavements this morning, although it had been softened by salt.

The Stratton Dam reported over an inch of new snow, making an accumulation of 4 inches since the previous storms of last Friday and the previous Monday.

The fall averaged 5 inches over Ohio. Cincinnati, with its hilly streets clogged with 7 inches of snow, faced one of the biggest problems.

Cincinnati police investigated 70 traffic accidents in the snowstorm, but none was major.

In Cleveland, where depths of up to 10 inches were measured, some 200 motorists were cited for leaving their cars parked on through streets, impeding snow plows.

Five hundred snow plows were in operation Wednesday night in Cuyhaoga County. Removal crews faced the task of salting, cindering and plowing 500 miles of highways.

The Dayton area, which also received a 10-inch blanket, experienced similar problems. About two dozen school closings were reported in outlving Montgomery County, although city schools were to remain open.

Columbus had more than 5 inches. Akron started digging from beneath an 8-inch cover. Ironton and Portsmouth had about 6 inches.

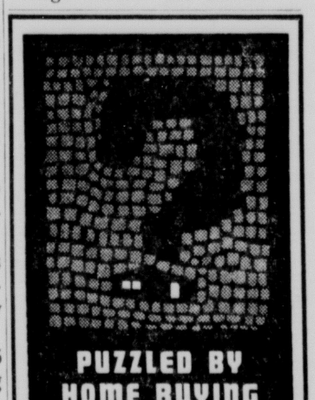

Other depths reported by the U.S. Weather Bureau in Columbus included 9 inches in Holmes County, 12 in Mahoning and 13 in Auglaize County.

No more snow is forecast through Friday, at least, and a warmup in temperatures was to start today.

The downtown had a reading of 26 degrees both yesterday and this morning. Tonight's low will be 24 to 28. It may go into the mid-30's today.

Meanwhile, ice remains in the Ohio River, although not as heavy as during the recent zero cold. Henry Conway, lockmaster at Stratton, said there was broken ice extending about a mile above the dam this morning with some extending out from the West Virginia shore. A week ago, there was shore - to - shore ice extending above Wellsville, about an inch thick or more.

Jim Switzer of College of Emporia, Kan., scored 28 touchdowns for 168 points for a small college record last season.

Friends may call this afternoon and tonight at the family home on the Salineville - Augusta Rd., where the Rosary will be recited at 8.

The Maple Funeral Home in Kensington is in charge of arrangements.

little traveling, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

There was only one mishap reported — that on the Chester Bridge and before the snow began — the patrol said.

Slick roads tied up traffic this morning, including however, the Route 30 Cannons Mill hill.

At 9:15 a. m. a motorist reported six tractor-trailer trucks halted eastbound near Huston Pl. with 16 trucks at the bottom of the hill, and several trucks and cars halted westbound toward Super 30 Drive-In.

Area streets and highways virtually were deserted yesterday morning — a combination of the holiday lull and the worst driving conditions of the season.

The few drivers who ventured out found conditions treacherous, with ice underlying a coating of half - frozen snow. Shortly before noon, conditions worsened as the heavy snow continued.

Major thoroughfares and grades in the city were passable for the most part yesterday, but secondary streets were covered with a glare of ice and snow that made driving hazardous at best.

Despite the work of street department crews, conditions improved very little by late afternoon. The continuing snow in the early afternoon undid most of the city crews' work.

Graders and snow plows were used on some of the city's major thoroughfares and ahes and salt were spread liberally in other spots — particularly on grades and at intersections.

In East Liverpool, street department crews were called out at 8:30 a. m. yesterday and worked continually until 8 p. m.

By yesterday afternoon, state snowplows had removed the accumulation from major highways in the immediate area, including the Freeway, Routes 30 and 170 and the Y. & O. Rd. But a base of hard - packed snow and ice still covered the pavements this morning, although it had been softened by salt.

The Stratton Dam reported over an inch of new snow, making an accumulation of 4 inches since the previous storms of last Friday and the previous Monday.

The fall averaged 5 inches over Ohio. Cincinnati, with its hilly streets clogged with 7 inches of snow, faced one of the biggest problems.

Cincinnati police investigated 70 traffic accidents in the snowstorm, but none was major.

In Cleveland, where depths of up to 10 inches were measured, some 200 motorists were cited for leaving their cars parked on through streets, impeding snow plows.

Five hundred snow plows were in operation Wednesday night in Cuyhaoga County. Removal crews faced the task of salting, cindering and plowing 500 miles of highways.

The Dayton area, which also received a 10-inch blanket, experienced similar problems. About two dozen school closings were reported in outlying Montgomery County, although city schools were to remain open.

Columbus had more than 5 inches. Akron started digging from beneath an 8-inch cover. Ironton and Portsmouth had about 6 inches.

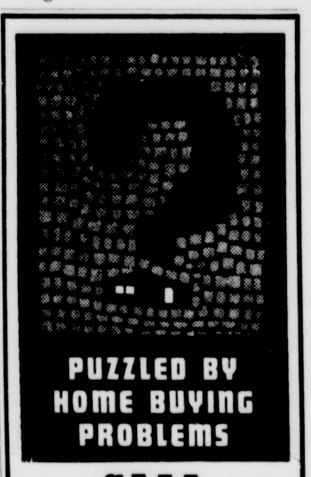

Other depths reported by the U.S. Weather Bureau in Columbus included 9 inches in Holmes County, 12 in Mahoning and 13 in Auglaize County.

No more snow is forecast through Friday, at least, and a warmup in temperatures was to start today.

The downtown had a reading of 26 degrees both yesterday and this morning. Tonight's low will be 24 to 28. It may go into the mid-30's today.

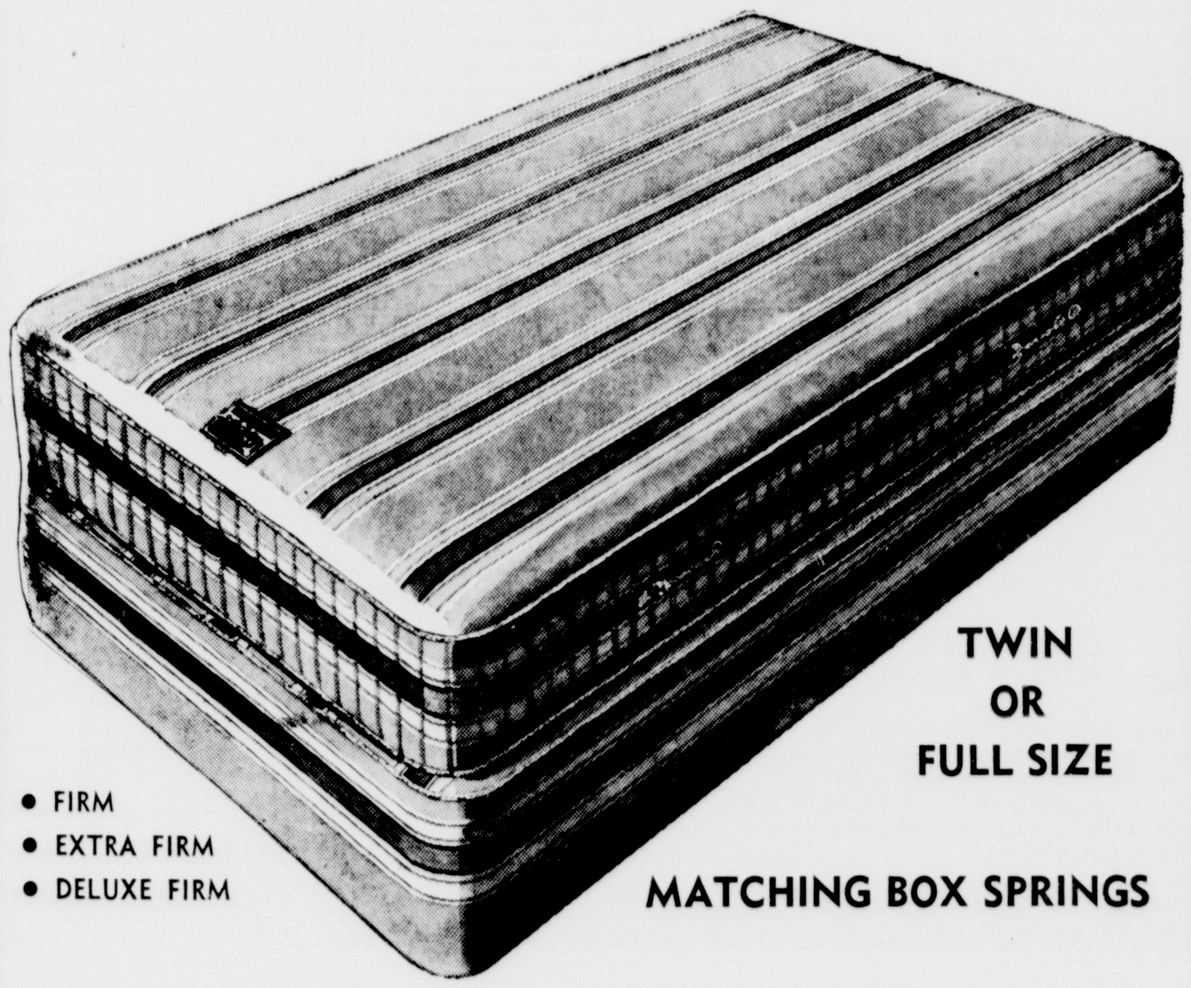

Meanwhile, ice remains in the Ohio River, although not as heavy as during the recent zero cold. Henry Conway, lockmaster at Stratton, said there was broken ice extending about a mile above the dam this morning with some extending out from the West Virginia shore. A week ago, there was shore - to - shore ice extending above Wellsville, about an inch thick or more.

Jim Switzer of College of Emporia, Kan., scored 28 touchdowns for 168 points for a small college record last season.

Let's Have A Demonstration

Words designed to warm the hearts of peace-lovers everywhere are flowing out of the Kremlin again.

We're as strong for peace as the next guy, but this latest offering from Soviet Premier Khrushchev leaves us a bit cold and uneasy.

This round little man wo blows hot and cold toward the U.S. with unsettling ir--regularity views 1964 as a year in which his country and ours can agree on "a broad range of measures" to slow the cold toward the U.S. with unsettling irregularity views 1964 as a year in which his country and ours can agree on "a broad range of measures" to slow the arms race and ease international tensions.

He beckons with a smile, but is that a club or a peace pipe he holds behind his back?

His "broad range of measures" includes the old pitch for a nonagression pact between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Communist Warsaw Pact nations.

WE DON'T LIKE to be skeptical, but hasn't the Soviet Union violated just about every nonaggression treaty it ever signed? And is Khrushchev's motive nonaggression or is it to gain Western recognition of the status quo in Europe?

The latter has been a major Soviet foreign policy aim ever since the end of World War II and we assume it still is.

We don't doubt Khrushchev's sincerity when he says the Soviet people don't want war. But, as always, he wants peace on his terms, not ours.

Soviet proposals, such as the nonaggression pact and armed forces reductions, almost always carry demands for concessions in other areas.

Western leaders know, and so does Khrushchev, that a nonaggression treaty without enforcement machinery means little more than a handshake. It's apt to be dangerous, too, because it leads to the kind of complacency that leaves a nation ripe for surprise attack.

But U.S. proposals for inspection that would put some teeth in the treaty have been rejected down the line by the Kremlin.

RUSSIA BALKED at aerial reconnaissance, holding out for ground observation. Last summer, the U.S. agreed to go along with ground observation and Russia tacked on the unacceptable condition calling for removal of troops from East and West Berlin.

And so it goes in the Kremlin's game of calculated frustration.

It's nice to hear Khrushchev talking about peace, but we need more than talk before we can get excited about what he's saying.

If he wants to demonstrate good faith, let him start by kicking down the Berlin Wall.

A Hole In The Hat

There is some doubt about President Johnson's background in foreign affairs. He is a politician checked out in domestic affairs, say the doubters, but untested in the presumably trickier art of international diplomacy.

Skeptics are wondering if he will have as sure a touch as his predecessor.

We think he will, though it will be different. John F. Kennedy, it needs to be remembered, trusted his vice president with important diplomatic missions. He had no misgivings about the Johnson touch.

In his meetings with West German Chancellor Erhard, President Johnson may have revealed the technique he will use. He will "Texasize" visiting statesmen. They will not be allowed to forget for a minute that the new president of the United States is from Texas.

WHENEVER possible, he will take them to the LBJ ranch at Johnson City. If there isn't time for that, he will give them the Texas touch in Washington.

Every visiting dignitary and most of his entourage will be given Texas hats. They will be staggered by the expansiveness of the Texas manner. It will be so unlike anything that ever happened to them before they will be flabbergasted.

Everything will be outward-going and corny. They will think it's some kind of entertainment.

They won't know better until they find a hole in their brand-new Texas hats. It could have been a stray bullet, and it could have been fatal. They will think about both possibilities.

It may turn out otherwise, but if Chancellor Erhard responds to "Texasizing," it may be the folksiest touch in diplomacy since wiener roasts at Hyde Park during the Roosevelt administration.

We're not sure what these wiener roasts did that was better, but while they were going on the United States turned into a world power. Someone must have done something out of the ordinary.

Paul Robeson Has Come Home

Paul Robeson will be a controversial spokesman at best for Negroes in the United States if he keeps a promise to speak out on civil rights, now that he has come home.

His fight to travel abroad began in 1950 and was culminated in 1958, when he won the passport that had been denied him because of his apparent fondness for Communist causes.

He left New York for London July 10, 1958. It was his announced intention then to make Great Britain his future home.

On Jan. 12, 1959, he was admitted to a Moscow hospital with a serious illness. However, he recovered sooner than anticipated and was able to participate in the centenary season of the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre at Stratord-on-Avon in April of that year.

The singer has made no public appearance since he contracted circulatory ailment in early 1961. He has a comfortable income from record royalties and investments. From last August until mid-November he had been treated for his illness at a hospital in East Berlin.

RECENTLY, Robeson was reported to have signed a passport affidavit stating that he had never been a member of the Communist party. Even so, his history of strong and eager comradeship with the Communists makes him a dubious champion indeed for a race whose most militant advocates can rarely be accused of subversion.

The two-time All-American end, Phi Beta Kappa scholar, platform speaker, singer and all-around athlete at Rutgers University was made an honorary professor of the Moscow State Conservatory of Music in 1958.

A Soviet master of ceremonies once called him the Soviet Union's "great and good friend" and told him it had fought for the restoration of his freedom and his right to travel. In 1953 he received the $25,000 Stalin (now Lenin) Peace Prize.

IN 1956 he told the House Committee on un-American Activities he did not want to live in the Soviet Union because his father was a slave and his people died to build the United States. "I am ging to stay here and have a part of it just like you," he said.

The Dove's Back

By Truman Twill

All of us on the Burpee list are grateful again for the timing of the company's new catalog. It always reaches us in the depth of the doldrums, when not a breath of hope is stirring. The new catalog was distributed last weekend.

Just when we're in a mood to jump into bed, turn the electric blanket up high and wait out the interminable Winter that lies ahead, a handful of brightly colored zinnias hits us in the eye — and things seem bearable.

Even if you never were a gardener, the reminder that the next event on the weather calendar is Spring always helps. In a new year, all things are possible.

Tomatoes can be big as volleyballs and succulent as watermelons.

Roses in 1964 can be free of red spiders and aphids.

There will not necessarily be another drought.

Rudabagas can taste like ambrosia.

Lawns can be velvety and cauliflower free from pestilence.

Cut worms may lose their razor edge.

Tulips do not have to be disfigured by heavy snow.

There can be a bumper peach crop.

Pansies can be as big as salad plates and lupine can bloom with abandon.

WE DO NOT have to look forward to police dogs and cattle prods in 1964.

There is a possibility everything will come up roses.

The European Economic Community may keep on branching out until it encompasses things more important than international work permits and tariff.

The new nations of Africa may quit behaving like the old nations of the West.

The U.S. Congress may quit raising doubts about the feasibility of self-government.

There may be a toning down of obstructionism to the sane and reasonable provisions of the U.S. Constitution concerning the equal rights of all citizens, regardless of race, creed and color.

ALL THINGS are possible. Whatever men can imagine can be made to come true if they want it to.

Cabbages can measure 18 inches across.

Men can reason together, instead of sticking their fingers in one another's eyes.

There can be a happier new year.

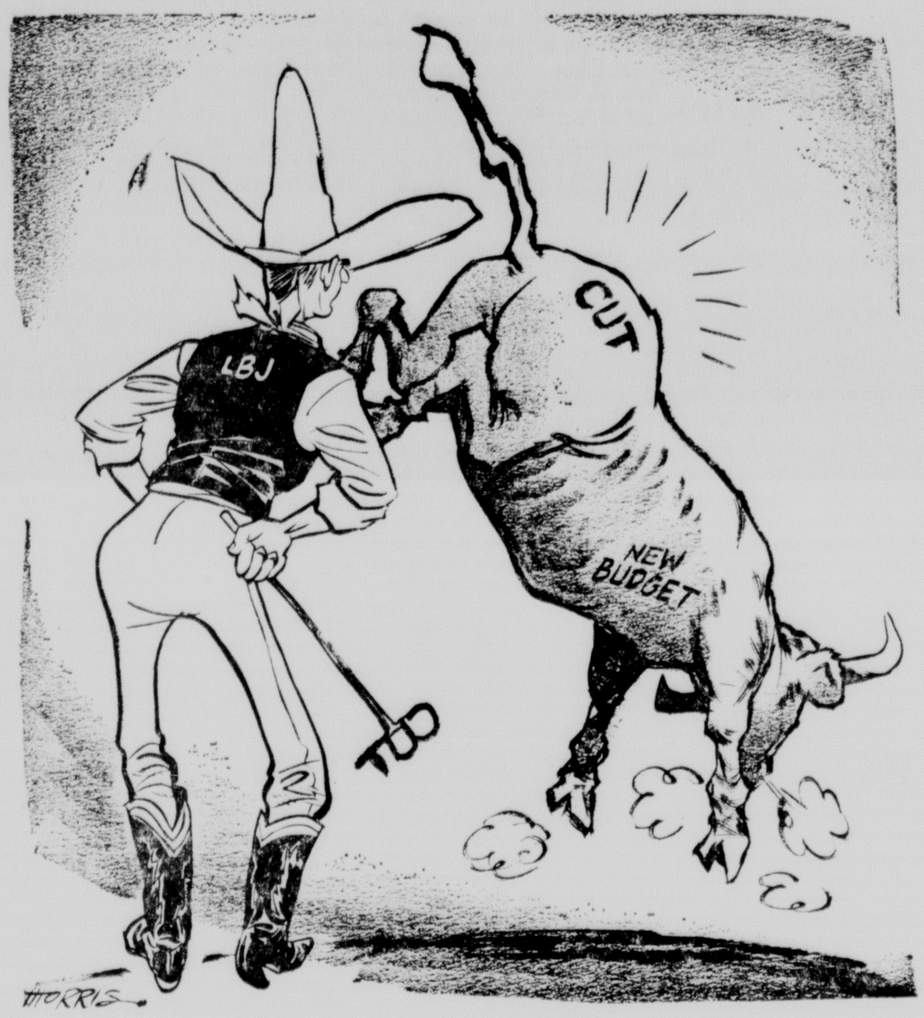

Thanks to W. Atlee Burpee Co., we know it's true. The dove has come back to the snowmobile with a dandelion blossom in its beak.

A New Brand In These Here Parts

Ike's Comments Defy Interpretation

By Raymond Moley

The problem faced by a poor political commentator these days is that before he has time to interpret the latest Eisenhower comment, the general reinterprets himself.

He had this habit during the presidency. There were printed in the transcripts of his press conferences so many incomplete sentences that reporters had to wait several hours or days to determine exactly what the President said or didn't say.

His best-selling book opens a broad avenue of speculation. Therein we find occasional expressions of the Eisenhower political ideology. Those who read must be content that his position is midway between two extremes. But he doesn't define what he means by extremes, so nobody knows what is midway between.

IT'S TRUE that most people's philosophy is somewhere between communism, which is all-government, and anarchism, which is no-government. But the right place is never in the exact center.

A political position when rightly arrived at is determined by an assssment of the facts and a rational appraisal of what is right and proper. It is determined by logic coupled with the facts. It's not determined by geometry.

I'm sure that Gen. Eisenhower does not want to be a king maker. There is nothing of John of Gaunt or the Earl of Warwick in his makeup.

What he says he wants is a free-for-all fight for the nomination. We may agree with that. In fact, that is the method that has been followed in almost every case except when the general himself was a candidate.

In those pre-convention months of 1952 and 1956 he failed to invite candidates to oppose him. He did seem to invite people to oppose his faithful friend and associate, Vice President Nixon, in 1956. That is when by implication he permitted his subordinate, Harold Stassen, to head a dump-Nixon movement.

THE SUGGESTION of Henry Cabot Lodge still is wrapped in mysterious interpretations and misinterpretations.

Richard Nixon, who believes that if Lodge hadn't "helped" him in 1960 he might have won the election, visited Gettysburg after that suggestion, presumably to get a reinterpretation.

Then the general said, "Now both of us agreed that we'd like to see him back here because he is a dynamic, vivacious man, a leader type."

Nixon might have agreed that Lodge was dynamic in Harlem in the campaign when he said that there should be a Negro in the Cabinet and thus lost two or three Southern states for the ticket. But he was less than dynamic during the rest of the campaign and deeply offended Republican leaders in the Midwest.

Exactly whom Lodge would be the "leader" of if he came back, no one seems able to discover.

But after the Lodge idea was uninterpreted, Gov. Scranton said that the general had told him to give "deeper thought" to running for president. Accordingly, Scranton plunged into deep thought and said that Lodge would be a good Secretary of State.

A BIT of deeper thought might have caused the governor to realize that presidential candidates, or, as in this instance, individuals who don't know whether or not to run, certainly refrain from picking Cabinet members in advance.

But it will take a lot more than deep thinking to project the image of Scranton, a relative newcomer, over a nation in which few realize that Scranton is a man as well as a depressed city in Pennsylvania.

One result of Gen. Eisenhower's energies is that there certainly will be no dark horses by July. For the light that beams from Gettysburg will shine on every possible eligible Republican.

If the general during his holiday in Palm Springs will indulge in some deep thought, he may realize that this matter has become somewhat ridiculous. And that he has fairly well impaired the great popularity which he has just earned.

Automobile Tags

By J. W. Davis

About the time you get Christmas paid for, it will be time for another annual expense — automobile tags.

This is an item that has been going up generally, with more and more cities and towns getting into the act along with the states.

The top charges run as high as $72.95, in Oklahoma, and $69.35, in Minnesota.

A mass of information has been gathered about car tags by the American Automobile Association and the National Geographic Society.

For one thing, there seems to be a trend toward making the tags good for more than one year. Nineteen states now issue stickers or tabs instead of requiring an annual replacement of plates.

Also, more states each year are using reflective plates. These cost a little extra to make, how much depending on how many years they are supposed to last.

The average cost of manufacturing tags runs about 15 to 30 cents. Nearly all are made by prison labor. The size is now a standard 12 by 6 inches, after many years of variety.

Various states like to use the tags to advertise their special qualities or attractions. Only infrequently is there any objection from car owners, but it was reported recently that one citizen threatened to go to court to prevent New York from advertising its world fair on his 1964 plates.

Registration of autos began in 1901, in New York State. The need was obvious—to help identify a car that was stolen or involved in an accident. At the beginning the revenue didn't amount to much—$1 a car.

There has always been a special appeal in low numbers, these usually being reserved for top state officials. Peculiar combinations also are popular.

A Wisconsin man named Ole Lee managed to get plates numbered 337-370 which he put on upside down, to spell his name. Mickey Mantle, whose baseball uniform carries the number 7, got plates with the number 77-77777. Heavyweight boxer Rocky Marciano once had the letters KO.

By paying an extra fee Connecticut car owners have been allowed to get special combinations of four letters. Two teenaged friends had galoppies that sported rock and roll. A man named Krout was happy with tags reading sour.

Looking Ahead

Some Predictions For The New Year

One of the silly but enduring practices is predicting what will happen in the new year.

Nothing is above or beneath the notice of the "seers."

Business, industry, the arts and sciences, sports, education, entertainment and politics all come in for attention.

That there have been more wrong guesses than right ones in the past is no deterrent to the avid prognosticators.

Everyone—from political pundits to the most loquacious charlatan—is taking a fling at predicting the future.

While others concern themselves with more profound matters in a more uncertain future, here are some more frivolous but less uncertain guesses:

FIRST, it's a safe bet that the New Year will leap from 365 to 366 days and that February will have 29 days for the first time since 1960.

In January, Congress will be told, in the State of the Union message, that business will be better than ever. It also will be told that the federal budget will be balanced.

By February, the administration will ask that the ceiling on the national debt be raised.

Congress still will be struggling with the 1963 list of "must" legislation. The Democrats will blame the Republicans for the delay and vice versa.

Atomic experts and research scientists will predict a year of great scientific achievements. Three moon shots will be washed out.

Labor will call for a short-short-short work week at high-high-high pay with long-long-long vacations plus fringe-fringe-fringe benefits.

A "little old lady" with a tear-gas pen will chase off a "mugger." She will be charged with carrying concealed weapons but the "mugger" will escape.

Extreme rightists will predict a Communist take-over of the United States within 90 days.

Khrushchev will deny there are Soviet troops in Cuba.

Khrushchev will announce he is withdrawing 30,000 Soviet troops from Cuba.

The Christine Keeler scandal will "perfumo" the British elections.

Sex again will be the "buy-word" in Hollywood and the silver screen will hit a new high- or low-in spicy films.

BY AUGUST, most of the 1963 front runners for the Republican nomination will be running for cover after the presidential convention.

Many politicians will secretly admit that they'd rather be right than consistent.

The Pentagon will notify the secretary of defense that it has come to the attention of the top brass that too much attention has come to their departments.

U.S. taxpayers again will pick up the tab for the United Nations.

Khrushchev will call for a summit conference blaming the U.S. for breaking the peace.

Charles de Gaulle still wants France to become a predominant voice in world affairs.

In the world of science, some inventor will get a patent on a gadget that does absolutely nothing.

WINTER WILL be welcomed as usual on Dec. 21, 1964, by local residents tired of the cold autumn.

The President again will call on Congress to raise the ceiling on the national debt. The senator from Virginia will object.

Communist China's premier, Chou En-lai will call Khrushchev "chicken" and demand a tougher hand in dealing with the West.

The secretary of defense will be sent on a third special mission to Viet Nam. The Vietnamese will promise to drive the Communists out in 30-days- "all the U.S. will have to do is send money."

The Alliance for Progress will call for American cash to keep the alliance in spending money.

Mexican divorces and marriages will continue to make news headlines.

THE NEW YORK Yankees will rule the American League in 1964 but there will be a four-way tie for first place in the National League.

The wacky-wig fad will get wackier and wackier before it becomes another passing fancy.

There will be 8,784 hours in the coming year. Most will be squandered.

The list would continue so infinitum.

Whether we take the New Year seriously or lightly, it will have its share of joys and sorrows, great and silly moments so make the most of them.

And may your happy moments outnumber your unhappy ones!

Year Of Spectaculars

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

This should be a year of spectacular certainly at home, maybe abroad.

At home — the presidential race, with all that means: abroad — the possibility of a summit conference and a grinding Russian-Chinese break.

President Johnson has to achieve in one year what the late President John F. Kennedy had three years to work at: public approval through public exposure; and public approval through public performance.

Johnson, in the time left before the campaign, can't match the amount of public exposure Kennedy got in speeches, trips, banquets, and appearances before news and television cameras practically every day.

But he's working at it, and working overtime, to create a favorable image of himself as a busy-busy president: at the White House, on trips, walks, tours of his ranch and picture posing.

There'll be lots more of this. Johnson is a man in a hurry.

Since he is so obviously seeking to stay in the public eye, coming as he does from the relative obscurity of the vice presidency, a summit conference with Soviet Premier Khrushchev would snatch the world's attention like nothing else.

And, if it turned out half-well, it would snatch the world's approval. That's why such a meeting seems a strong possibility.

Meanwhile, talk without performance at home will be an empty achievement, and probably a self-defeating one. Johnson will have to try, and try harder than Kennedy ever did, to get some major legislation through Congress.

He's not as mild as Kennedy and for that reason is apt to get into some harrowing disputes with congressional leaders, an embroilment Kennedy always avoided.

Kennedy's technique, however was not very productive in getting Congress to do what he wanted. A different, harsher technique might be more effective.

Yet, Johnson stands a chance of hurting himself if he gets too rough. He doesn't have Kennedy's ease or grace. A fight creates enemies and gives the impression of a man in trouble.

Kennedy made an effort to appear both calm and in full control, even when Congress frustrated and ignored him. But the Kennedy technique of no fights with Congress was simply a repetition of President Eisenhower's technique.

The result was 10 years of placidity in relations between the White House and Congress. There hasn't been a good brawl since the days of President Truman.

But all this is only half the picture of 1964.

The Republicans' presidential hopefuls will have a double chore, too: knocking one another out of the race while trying to scuttle Johnson.

Kennedy, after three years of building public confidence in his leadership, could have relaxed a bit under attack until the Republicans had picked their candidate and the race was under way.

Johnson can enjoy no such luxury. Besides, it's probably not in his nature to grin and bear it. He has a struggle every inch of the way to election day.

Since he's not a man who takes criticism lightly, what's ahead for him is enough to heat up any politician. He not only has to make a record for himself but then defend it and defend Kennedy's record as a Democratic leader, too.

The fact that Kennedy was so obviously well-liked might have taken some of the spirit, and much of the fight, out of his Republican opponents. But the brand-new Johnson is fresh meat for them.

This could well be the roughest and most unpleasant presidential race since Truman beat New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in 1948.

Let's Have A Demonstration

Words designed to warm the hearts of peace-lovers everywhere are flowing out of the Kremlin again.

We're as strong for peace as the next guy, but this latest offering from Soviet Premier Khrushchev leaves us a bit cold and uneasy.

This round little man wo blows hot and cold toward the U.S. with unsettling irregularity views 1964 as a year in which his country and ours can agree on "a broad range of measures" to slow the cold toward the U.S. with unsettling irregularity views 1964 as a year in which his country and ours can agree on "a broad range of measures" to slow the arms race and ease international tensions.

He beckons with a smile, but is that a club or a peace pipe he holds behind his back?

His "broad range of measures" includes the old pitch for a nonagression pact between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Communist Warsaw Pact nations.

WE DON'T LIKE to be skeptical, but hasn't the Soviet Union violated just about every nonaggression treaty it ever signed? And is Khrushchev's motive nonaggression or is it to gain Western recognition of the status quo in Europe?

The latter has been a major Soviet foreign policy aim ever since the end of World War II and we assume it still is.

We don't doubt Khrushchev's sincerity when he says the Soviet people don't want war. But, as always, he wants peace on his terms, not ours.

Soviet proposals, such as the nonaggression pact and armed forces reductions, almost always carry demands for concessions in other areas.

Western leaders know, and so does Khrushchev, that a nonaggression treaty without enforcement machinery means little more than a handshake. It's apt to be dangerous, too, because it leads to the kind of complacency that leaves a nation ripe for surprise attack.

But U.S. proposals for inspection that would put some teeth in the treaty have been rejected down the line by the Kremlin.

RUSSIA BALKED at aerial reconnaissance, holding out for ground observation. Last summer, the U.S. agreed to go along with ground observation and Russia tacked on the unacceptable condition calling for removal of troops from East and West Berlin.

And so it goes in the Kremlin's game of calculated frustration.

It's nice to hear Khrushchev talking about peace, but we need more than talk before we can get excited about what he's saying.

If he wants to demonstrate good faith, let him start by kicking down the Berlin Wall.

A Hole In The Hat

There is some doubt about President Johnson's background in foreign affairs. He is a politician checked out in domestic affairs, say the doubters, but untested in the presumably trickier art of international diplomacy.

Skeptics are wondering if he will have as sure a touch as his predecessor.

We think he will, though it will be different. John F. Kennedy, it needs to be remembered, trusted his vice president with important diplomatic missions. He had no misgivings about the Johnson touch.

In his meetings with West German Chancellor Erhard, President Johnson may have revealed the technique he will use. He will "Texasize" visiting statesmen. They will not be allowed to forget for a minute that the new president of the United States is from Texas.

WHENEVER possible, he will take them to the LBJ ranch at Johnson City. If there isn't time for that, he will give them the Texas touch in Washington.

Every visiting dignitary and most of his entourage will be given Texas hats. They will be staggered by the expansiveness of the Texas manner. It will be so unlike anything that ever happened to them before they will be flabbergasted.

Everything will be outward-going and corny. They will think it's some kind of entertainment.

They won't know better until they find a hole in their brand-new Texas hats. It could have been a stray bullet, and it could have been fatal. They will think about both possibilities.

It may turn out otherwise, but if Chancellor Erhard responds to "Texasizing," it may be the folksiest touch in diplomacy since wiener roasts at Hyde Park during the Roosevelt administration.

We're not sure what these wiener roasts did that was better, but while they were going on the United States turned into a world power. Someone must have done something out of the ordinary.

Paul Robeson Has Come Home

Paul Robeson will be a controversial spokesman at best for Negroes in the United States if he keeps a promise to speak out on civil rights, now that he has come home.

His fight to travel abroad began in 1950 and was culminated in 1958, when he won the passport that had been denied him because of his apparent fondness for Communist causes.

He left New York for London July 10, 1958. It was his announced intention then to make Great Britain his future home.

On Jan. 12, 1959, he was admitted to a Moscow hospital with a serious illness. However, he recovered sooner than anticipated and was able to participate in the centenary season of the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre at Stratord-on-Avon in April of that year.

The singer has made no public appearance since he contracted circulatory ailment in early 1961. He has a comfortable income from record royalties and investments. From last August until mid-November he had been treated for his illness at a hospital in East Berlin.

RECENTLY, Robeson was reported to have signed a passport affidavit stating that he had never been a member of the Communist party. Even so, his history of strong and eager comradeship with the Communists makes him a dubious champion indeed for a race whose most militant advocates can rarely be accused of subversion.

The two-time All-American end, Phi Beta Kappa scholar, platform speaker, singer and all-around athlete at Rutgers University was made an honorary professor of the Moscow State Conservatory of Music in 1958.

A Soviet master of ceremonies once called him the Soviet Union's "great and good friend" and told him it had fought for the restoration of his freedom and his right to travel. In 1953 he received the $25,000 Stalin (now Lenin) Peace Prize.

IN 1956 he told the House Committee on un-American Activities he did not want to live in the Soviet Union because his father was a slave and his people died to build the United States. "I am ging to stay here and have a part of it just like you," he said.

The Dove's Back

By Truman Twill

All of us on the Burpee list are grateful again for the timing of the company's new catalog. It always reaches us in the depth of the doldrums, when not a breath of hope is stirring. The new catalog was distributed last weekend.

Just when we're in a mood to jump into bed, turn the electric blanket up high and wait out the interminable Winter that lies ahead, a handful of brightly colored zinnias hits us in the eye — and things seem bearable.

Even if you never were a gardener, the reminder that the next event on the weather calendar is Spring always helps. In a new year, all things are possible.

Tomatoes can be big as volleyballs and succulent as watermelons.

Roses in 1964 can be free of red spiders and aphids.

There will not necessarily be another drought.

Rudabagas can taste like ambrosia.

Lawns can be velvety and cauliflower free from pestilence.

Cut worms may lose their razor edge.

Tulips do not have to be disfigured by heavy snow.

There can be a bumper peach crop.

Pansies can be as big as salad plates and lupine can bloom with abandon.

WE DO NOT have to look forward to police dogs and cattle prods in 1964.

There is a possibility everything will come up roses.

The European Economic Community may keep on branching out until it encompasses things more important than international work permits and tariff.

The new nations of Africa may quit behaving like the old nations of the West.

The U.S. Congress may quit raising doubts about the feasibility of self-government.

There may be a toning down of obstructionism to the sane and reasonable provisions of the U.S. Constitution concerning the equal rights of all citizens, regardless of race, creed and color.

ALL THINGS are possible. Whatever men can imagine can be made to come true if they want it to.

Cabbages can measure 18 inches across.

Men can reason together, instead of sticking their fingers in one another's eyes.

There can be a happier new year.

Thanks to W. Atlee Burpee Co., we know it's true. The dove has come back to the snowmobile with a dandelion blossom in its beak.

A New Brand In These Here Parts

Ike's Comments Defy Interpretation

By Raymond Moley

The problem faced by a poor political commentator these days is that before he has time to interpret the latest Eisenhower comment, the general reinterprets himself.

He had this habit during the presidency. There were printed in the transcripts of his press conferences so many incomplete sentences that reporters had to wait several hours or days to determine exactly what the President said or didn't say.

His best-selling book opens a broad avenue of speculation. Therein we find occasional expressions of the Eisenhower political ideology. Those who read must be content that his position is midway between two extremes. But he doesn't define what he means by extremes, so nobody knows what is midway between.

IT'S TRUE that most people's philosophy is somewhere between communism, which is all-government, and anarchism, which is no-government. But the right place is never in the exact center.

A political position when rightly arrived at is determined by an assssment of the facts and a rational appraisal of what is right and proper. It is determined by logic coupled with the facts. It's not determined by geometry.

I'm sure that Gen. Eisenhower does not want to be a king maker. There is nothing of John of Gaunt or the Earl of Warwick in his makeup.

What he says he wants is a free-for-all fight for the nomination. We may agree with that. In fact, that is the method that has been followed in almost every case except when the general himself was a candidate.

In those pre-convention months of 1952 and 1956 he failed to invite candidates to oppose him. He did seem to invite people to oppose his faithful friend and associate, Vice President Nixon, in 1956. That is when by implication he permitted his subordinate, Harold Stassen, to head a dump-Nixon movement.

THE SUGGESTION of Henry Cabot Lodge still is wrapped in mysterious interpretations and misinterpretations.

Richard Nixon, who believes that if Lodge hadn't "helped" him in 1960 he might have won the election, visited Gettysburg after that suggestion, presumably to get a reinterpretation.

Then the general said, "Now both of us agreed that we'd like to see him back here because he is a dynamic, vivacious man, a leader type."

Nixon might have agreed that Lodge was dynamic in Harlem in the campaign when he said that there should be a Negro in the Cabinet and thus lost two or three Southern states for the ticket. But he was less than dynamic during the rest of the campaign and deeply offended Republican leaders in the Midwest.

Exactly whom Lodge would be the "leader" of if he came back, no one seems able to discover.

But after the Lodge idea was uninterpreted, Gov. Scranton said that the general had told him to give "deeper thought" to running for president. Accordingly, Scranton plunged into deep thought and said that Lodge would be a good Secretary of State.

A BIT of deeper thought might have caused the governor to realize that presidential candidates, or, as in this instance, individuals who don't know whether or not to run, certainly refrain from picking Cabinet members in advance.

But it will take a lot more than deep thinking to project the image of Scranton, a relative newcomer, over a nation in which few realize that Scranton is a man as well as a depressed city in Pennsylvania.

One result of Gen. Eisenhower's energies is that there certainly will be no dark horses by July. For the light that beams from Gettysburg will shine on every possible eligible Republican.

If the general during his holiday in Palm Springs will indulge in some deep thought, he may realize that this matter has become somewhat ridiculous. And that he has fairly well impaired the great popularity which he has just earned.

Automobile Tags

By J. W. Davis

About the time you get Christmas paid for, it will be time for another annual expense — automobile tags.

This is an item that has been going up generally, with more and more cities and towns getting into the act along with the states.

The top charges run as high as $72.95, in Oklahoma, and $69.35, in Minnesota.

A mass of information has been gathered about car tags by the American Automobile Association and the National Geographic Society.

For one thing, there seems to be a trend toward making the tags good for more than one year. Nineteen states now issue stickers or tabs instead of requiring an annual replacement of plates.

Also, more states each year are using reflective plates. These cost a little extra to make, how much depending on how many years they are supposed to last.

The average cost of manufacturing tags runs about 15 to 30 cents. Nearly all are made by prison labor. The size is now a standard 12 by 6 inches, after many years of variety.

Various states like to use the tags to advertise their special qualities or attractions. Only infrequently is there any objection from car owners, but it was reported recently that one citizen threatened to go to court to prevent New York from advertising its world fair on his 1964 plates.

Registration of autos began in 1901, in New York State. The need was obvious—to help identify a car that was stolen or involved in an accident. At the beginning the revenue didn't amount to much—$1 a car.

There has always been a special appeal in low numbers, these usually being reserved for top state officials. Peculiar combinations also are popular.

A Wisconsin man named Ole Lee managed to get plates numbered 337-370 which he put on upside down, to spell his name. Mickey Mantle, whose baseball uniform carries the number 7, got plates with the number 77-77777. Heavyweight boxer Rocky Marciano once had the letters KO.

By paying an extra fee Connecticut car owners have been allowed to get special combinations of four letters. Two teenaged friends had galoppies that sported rock and roll. A man named Krout was happy with tags reading sour.

Some Predictions For The New Year

One of the silly but enduring practices is predicting what will happen in the new year.

Nothing is above or beneath the notice of the "seers."

Business, industry, the arts and sciences, sports, education, entertainment and politics all come in for attention.

That there have been more wrong guesses than right ones in the past is no deterrent to the avid prognosticators.

Everyone—from political pundits to the most loquacious charlatan—is taking a fling at predicting the future.

While others concern themselves with more profound matters in a more uncertain future, here are some more frivolous but less uncertain guesses:

FIRST, it's a safe bet that the New Year will leap from 365 to 366 days and that February will have 29 days for the first time since 1960.

In January, Congress will be told, in the State of the Union message, that business will be better than ever. It also will be told that the federal budget will be balanced.

By February, the administration will ask that the ceiling on the national debt be raised.

Congress still will be struggling with the 1963 list of "must" legislation. The Democrats will blame the Republicans for the delay and vice versa.

Atomic experts and research scientists will predict a year of great scientific achievements. Three moon shots will be washed out.

Labor will call for a short-short-short work week at high-high-high pay with long-long-long vacations plus fringe-fringe-fringe benefits.

A "little old lady" with a tear-gas pen will chase off a "mugger." She will be charged with carrying concealed weapons but the "mugger" will escape.

Extreme rightists will predict a Communist take-over of the United States within 90 days.

Khrushchev will deny there are Soviet troops in Cuba.

Khrushchev will announce he is withdrawing 30,000 Soviet troops from Cuba.

The Christine Keeler scandal will "perfumo" the British elections.

Sex again will be the "buy-word" in Hollywood and the silver screen will hit a new high- or low-in spicy films.

BY AUGUST, most of the 1963 front runners for the Republican nomination will be running for cover after the presidential convention.

Many politicians will secretly admit that they'd rather be right than consistent.

The Pentagon will notify the secretary of defense that it has come to the attention of the top brass that too much attention has come to their departments.

U.S. taxpayers again will pick up the tab for the United Nations.

Khrushchev will call for a summit conference blaming the U.S. for breaking the peace.

Charles de Gaulle still wants France to become a predominant voice in world affairs.

In the world of science, some inventor will get a patent on a gadget that does absolutely nothing.

WINTER WILL be welcomed as usual on Dec. 21, 1964, by local residents tired of the cold autumn.

The President again will call on Congress to raise the ceiling on the national debt. The senator from Virginia will object.

Communist China's premier, Chou En-lai will call Khrushchev "chicken" and demand a tougher hand in dealing with the West.

The secretary of defense will be sent on a third special mission to Viet Nam. The Vietnamese will promise to drive the Communists out in 30-days- "all the U.S. will have to do is send money."

The Alliance for Progress will call for American cash to keep the alliance in spending money.

Mexican divorces and marriages will continue to make news headlines.

THE NEW YORK Yankees will rule the American League in 1964 but there will be a four-way tie for first place in the National League.

The wacky-wig fad will get wackier and wackier before it becomes another passing fancy.

There will be 8,784 hours in the coming year. Most will be squandered.

The list would continue so infinitum.

Whether we take the New Year seriously or lightly, it will have its share of joys and sorrows, great and silly moments so make the most of them.

And may your happy moments outnumber your unhappy ones!

Year Of Spectaculars

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

This should be a year of spectacular certainly at home, maybe abroad.

At home — the presidential race, with all that means; abroad — the possibility of a summit conference and a grinding Russian-Chinese break.

President Johnson has to achieve in one year what the late President John F. Kennedy had three years to work at: public approval through public exposure; and public approval through public performance.

State Seeks Bridge Bids

HAMMONDSVILLE — Plans for a proposed new bridge and approaches on Route 213 here, along with information concerning financial arrangments for relocation problems, are available from the Ohio Department of Highways P. E. Mashester, director, announced.

A relocation office has been established at 172 W. High St., New Philadelphia, for providing advice and information concerning the 750-foot project.

Financial assistance will be made available for families, business concerns and farms whose property may be displaced in clearing a right-of-way for the federal aid project.

Information will be supplied concerning services offered by federal, state and municipal agencies for assisting those required to re-locate, along with listings of sale and rental properties in the area for the convenience of those displaced.

Financial aid will consist of payment of moving expenses for personal property up to $200 for families or up to $3,000 for businesses and farms, the latter to include mileage within a 50-mile radius within Ohio.

Relocation counselors will start visiting each occupied structure which may be affected to interview the residents and owners.

also was on the job early. His term does not begin officially until Jan. 13, but in the meantime he will work with retiring Safety-Service Director Robert Owen to familiarize himself with duties and procedures.

The mayor's secretary, Mrs. Ruth Crawford, also reported for her first full day on the job. She replaces Mrs. Genevieve Weaver, who was secretary to former Mayor Bert H. Goodballet.

Owen's secretary, Mrs. Lillian McKeever, will remain on the job until Owen leaves office. Then she will be replaced by Miss Charlene Lanning of Minerva St., who has been designated by Vodrey.

A familiar face returned to the city auditor's office after an absence of nearly 10 years. E. Allan McKeever, former mayor and city auditor, began work as chief deputy to Auditor Lawrence Zollinger.

Zollinger's term also began yesterday. He succeeded Lawrence Applegate, Democrat.

Heart Attack Fatal

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Aurora Walker, 58, a pioneer of Mexico's movie industry and a veteran of the legitimate stage, radio and television, died Wednesday, apparently of a heart attack.

Dysert Heads School Board At Wellsville

A new president was elected and the temporary appropriation for the first quarter was adopted by the Wellsville Board of Education at the annual reorganization meeting Wednesday morning.

Russell Dysert, 969 Main St., was named president to succeed William Ferrell, who served for one year.

Dysert has served on the board about 10 years. He has been vice president several years.

Earl Bake, a former president, was elected vice president.

Meetings were set for the second Monday of each month at 7:30. The next is Jan. 13. The board had discussed setting regular caucus meetings, but no action was taken.

Raymond Rolley was reappointed as clerk for another four-year term. He has served as clerk several years. Two years ago all clerks in the state were placed on a two-year probationary period. This period ended Tuesday.

The temporary appropriation totals $157,500 for the first three months, until the regular appropriation can be set up.

This includes $150,000 for the general fund and $7,500 for the cafeteria fund.

'Good Response' Listed For Final City Tax Reports

There has been "a very good response" from individuals required to pay the fourth quarter installment on their city income taxes, but "quite a few" remain to be filed, Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson said today.

Tuesday was the deadline for payment of the installments by about 3,000 individuals whose earnings are not subject to withholding at the source. Notices of the deadline were mailed about Dec. 1.

Meanwhile, Wilkinson said the city tax office is ready to prepare final returns on 1963 income for any individual who can present proof of his earnings.

He pointed out that 1963 was the first year in which the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. recorded cumulative earnings on each paycheck given to its employes. Crucible employes who have the stub from their Dec. 23 paycheck may use it as proof of earnings for 1963, Wilkinson said.

LISBON — Paul Terry Milhoan, 20, of 561 E. Washington St. forfeited a $15 appearance bond Wednesday morning in Mayor Dean Stockman's court on charges of speeding. He was cited by police.

Skids Blamed In 2 Mishaps

Skids were blamed for two of the three minor mishaps that marred East Liverpool's holiday traffic, police reported. No one was injured.

A 1955 sedan driven by Richard T. Byers, 35, of 315 Norton St. skidded and damaged a fence at the property of John Wilson, 1029 Ambrose Ave., as Byers drove north in Shafer Ln. south of Ambrose Ave. Wednesday at 3:33 p.m.

Some slats were pulled loose on the fence, but there was no damage to the car, officers reported. Byers told police the rear of his car slid into the fence when he drove over a slippery spot on the pavement.

A similar mishap Wednesday at 10:55 a. m. damaged an auto and a utility pole at Martin St. and Ridge Alley.

As Bernard Kozora, 28, of 1672 Etruria St. prepared to turn at the intersection, his car skidded and hit the utility pole. There was damage to the bumper, grill and hood of the car.

Two autos were damaged in a collision Wednesday at 1:21 p.m. on Dresden Ave. at Rural Ln., officers said.

A parked 1958 sports car owned by Robert L. Sheville of Carroll Rd. was struck by a northbound station wagon driven by Flo Ella Lockhart, 33, of 1077 Claiborne St. Officers reported the woman said an oncoming car forced her to the right, causing her to hit the parked car.

There was damage to the left front bumper, grill, fender and door of Sheville's car and the right front bumper, fender and door of the Lockhart car.

Toronto Youths Held For Auto Tampering

Two 18-year-old youths from Toronto are slated to receive hearings today before County Judge James MacDonald at Lisbon on charges of tampering with a motor vehicle after their arrests early Wednesday morning in Wellsville.

Edward Lee Wilson, 511 N. 5th St., Toronto, and Terrence Lee Frey of Toronto R. D. 2, Hollow Rock, were arrested at 3:25 a. m. by Patrolman Charles Amato who said they ripped the antennas off 10 parked cars.

They were arrested at 25th St. and Clark Ave. after police received the complaint of the vandalism.

Eight of the cars damaged were parked on 18th St. and the other two at 15th and Main Sts.

Couple Found Dead

CINCINNATI (AP) — Blake Pitts, 80, and his wife, Eugenia, 65, were found dead in their apartment Wednesday night. Police said it appeared they died Sunday of carbon monoxide poisoning. Neighbors had missed the couple and called police to investigate.

ATHENS, Greece (AP)— The new caretaker government met today on the Cyprus crisis and authoritative sources said it had asked for an extraordinary meeting of the Atlantic Alliance's Permanent Council in Paris.

Shortly after the Greek Cypriot-Turkish Cypriot rivalry on Cyprus exploded into violence last month, the Greek government asked for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting. Later it withdrew the request when it appeared the conflict was being resolved.

Now the crisis appears to be heating up again.

Sources said the NATO committee was expected to take up the Cyprus issue in Paris this afternoon.

Irondale Car Involved In Route 7 Collision

An auto driven by Alta H. Nutter, 62, of Irondale R. D. 2 was involved in a three - car collision Wednesday at 1:30 a. m. on Route 7 two and a half miles north of Steubenville, according to the Wintersville State Highway Patrol.

Officers said a car operated by Paul Merritt, 27, of Toronto R. D. 1 became disabled on the highway. Vernon S. Jackson, 32, of Toronto R. D. started to shove Merritt's car with his own. The Nutter woman came upon the scene and hit the rear of Jackson's car, driving it into the Merritt car.

Minor damage resulted, officers said.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Aw, Men, It's Just A Game

"What's wrong with games? They're part of the American way of life. The fact there are 40 hours of game shows on television is a compliment to the audience's intelligence," says Ralph Andrews, pugnaciously.

Hal Humphrey

Andrews and his partner, Bill Yagemann, are co-producers of "You Don't Say," a daytime game-of-words show which NBC-TV is parlaying into a nighttime edition next Tuesday to replace the faltering "Redigo."

They are mad at the critics, mad at the networks and anyone else who dares to demean game shows.

After listening to Andrews for a while, you almost become convinced that all the world needs is a few more good TV game shows. We might even close up the United Nations and solve our problems by sitting down with Nikita and Mao to a game of tic-tac-toe.

"Just tell me this," Andrews continues, his temperature rising steadily. "What does the audience more good—to sit and watch that social worker in 'East Side, West Side' or relax in front of a game show?"

SHOULD YOU answer "East Side, West Side" to that question, Andrews reacts as if his civil rights had been abrogated.

"Television was made for escape," he adds. "If Bill and I are sensitive, it's because we feel persecuted. No one gave us a good review when 'You Don't Say' went on TV."

Andrews and Yagemann are especially resentful when a reviewer compares a game show to a dramatic series, then dismisses the game show as a piece of inconsequential TV miscellany.

While getting this vitally important briefing from Andrews and Yagemann on the true meaning of game shows to our American heritage, I also learned there is a big difference between a game show and a quiz show.

A QUIZ SHOW, according to Yagemann, generally can't be played by the audience at home. The questions are too tough for the average "relaxed" viewer. Without this participation from the audience, it cannot be a game show (Yagemann's Law.)

Even "What's My Line?" is not a game show in Yagemann's narrow view, because the home audience is tipped in advance to the answer. "What's My Line?" incidentally is produced by Mark Goodson and Bill Todman, for whom Andrews and Yagemann lose no love.

Goodson and Todman also produce "Password" and were threatening to sue Andrews and Yagemann. They thought "You Don't Say" is a steal of "Password," but apparently their attorneys didn't agree.

"They sent telegrams to all the agencies and tried to stop them from letting us have star names for 'You Don't Say,' but we pointed out to CBS that this came under a restraint of trade law," says Andrews.

BOTH ANDREWS and Yagemann have worked for Ralph Edwards, who was devising game shows for the Sailors on board the Pinta, Nina and Santa Maria.

"Playing games is nothing new in man's culture," Andrews says, continuing his filibuster. "And it rounds out his personality and character.

"Do you agree there is nothing more shallow than a man who has done nothing but study engineering? If he's just taught that and does nothing else, then believe me he is a shallow man.

"Tell me, is it wrong to play chess? And isn't a man better off watching a game show on TV than playing poker?"

The rest of you can watch "You Don't Say" on Tuesday nights. Me, I'll round up some chess players, and in between games we'll watch some old kinescopes on my home movie projector.

Peace Sought In Controversy Involving Parade

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Leaders of the Mummers, civil rights groups and the city seek today to resolve a controversy that threatened to flare into a demonstration before weather forced postponement of the traditional New Year's Day parade.

Mummers leaders, fearing the snow, ice and sleet would damage the flashy costumes, postponed the parade until Saturday.

Civil rights groups oppose use of blackface makeup by some marchers.

Despite the postponement, an informal group called the Second Streeters marched briefly and many wore blackface. There were no incidents and the Second Streeters said they would march again Saturday.

Magistrate Elias Myers, the parade director, banned use of blackface makeup this year, but rescinded the order after some clubs protested.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the Congress of Racial Equality then protested. The city said it would not award prizes to participants who wear blackface.

Plane Carrying 71 Has Near Accident

BOSTON (AP) — A Convair 880 jet, carrying 71 persons and crippled by a collapsed landing gear, skidded on a runway, spun around and came to rest on a wingtip Wednesday night.

None of the 63 passengers and eight crewmen was injured. A Trans World Airlines spokesman said damage to the plane was minor.

Snow and sleet had fallen intermittently during the day.

The plane had made stops at Chicago and New York.

Sounds Helpful In Learning ABC's

During the many years I have been writing this column, I don't recall having received a single letter, until rather recently, from a parent telling of a child's trouble at learning the alphabet. Up until a few years ago, not many parents felt it necessary for their children in the early grades to know the letters of the alphabet. Pretty generally, the nation over, parents had been warned for years not to teach the ABC's to their children, as such teaching might hamper them in learning to read by the look-and-say (word) method.

Dr. Garry Meyers

Then came along "doubting Thomases," and more recently a few reading experts, urging that not only should the school child learn early the letters of the alphabet (not in their order, of course), but also some of the basic sounds of these letters.

—:—

SOON MORE AND more of the reading experts began to say that the learning of the letters and their sounds should begin earlier than has been the prevailing practice. As a result, more and more teachers and parents became interested in having their children, as early as the first grade, master some such skills.

Anyway, for the last few years, parents have been writing to ask how they might at home help their youngster learn the ABC's, some of these children even being in the second grade.

Within the last six months such letters have been coming to me in almost every mail, and from various parts of the nation. A few mothers are saying that the teacher is asking them to help their child at home to learn the alphabet. Often the letter relates the difficulty the child so helped is having to learn these 26 letters.

Parents are making two manor errors:

1. THEY ARE trying to have the youngster learn the letters in alphabetic order. This is a needless added burden to the child. He won't need to know the letters in order until he begins use the dictionary.

2. They have him try to learn as many as five or ten letters an evening and often this is a group of letters easily confused. Instead, they should have the youngster dwell on only one or two (that look least alike) at a sitting, and have him find each letter as often as he can on a printed page or two.

Danger For Two Clergymen Cited By Conference Leader

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Two clergymen who spoke of the persecution of Christians could face personal danger as a result of their remarks at the 19th Ecumenical Student Conference, the conference co - chairman says.

John Pecoul of New York City's Union Theological Seminary referred to addresses Wednesday by the Rev. Malcolm McVeigh, Methodist missionary to Angola, and the Rev. Kenneth Carstens of South Africa.

They told of conditions affecting Christians in their respective territories and had grim predictions for the future.

"We have heard words here today that have put the very flesh of the people who said them on the line," Pecoul told some 3,000 students at the closing session of the conference.

The Rev. Mr. McVeigh, in his remarks, said the Portugese government has come to look upon the Christian Gospel as subversive. He said he has been accused of teaching songs with hidden political meanings, such as "Onward Christian Soldiers" and "Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus."

"It is true that these hymns call on the Christian to be a soldier in the fight against sin, evil, and wrong in the world," he said. "But since the Portugese government is the very epitome of these, at least in some sense these hymns could be called subversive."

The Rev. Mr. Carstens predicted that the South African government would begin to persecute Christians this year. He said the government has "contained" all effective opposition to its apartheid (separation of the races) policies except the church. "But the institutional church's witness against apartheid has been vassalating, weak-kneed and hypocritical," he said.

"If this persecution does not take place, it will mean that the last faithful remnant of the true church will have become unfaithful."

Retired Steel Figure Claimed

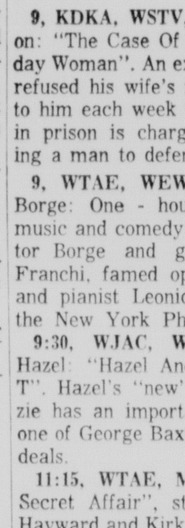

CLEVELAND (AP) — Lawrence S. Hamaker, 67, retired vice president of marketing for Republic Steel Corp., died Wednesday at Lakeside Hospital.

A native of Canton, Hamaker was educated in the schools there and served in World War I as a Marine drill instructor.

His first contact with the steel industry was an operator of a billet pusher on a bar mill heating furnace in one of Canton's mills. He joined Republic in 1930 as advertising and sales promotion manager after working for Berger Manufacturing Co. in Canton and Central Alloy Steel in Massillon.

He was a former president of the Canton Chamber of Commerce. He was transferred by Republic to Cleveland in 1942.

He is survived by his widow, the former Ethel C. Siple, whom he married in 1921, and a son, Lawrence S. Jr. of Bethel Park, Pa. Services will be Saturday in Canton.

Ohio Native To Be Envoy To Argentina

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) —President Johnson plans to nominate Edwin M. Martin, a veteran foreign service officer, as ambassador to Argentina.

The 55-year-old native of Dayton, Ohio, will succeed Robert McClintock, who, in turn, "is expected to be appointed to another important post in the near future," a White House announcement said Wednesday.

Martin had been assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs during the Kennedy administration. After Johnson became President he named Thomas C. Mann, then ambassador to Mexico, to succeed Martin.

"As assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs he has become intimately involved with our relations with Latin America and has a deep personal dedication to the objectives of the Alliance for Progress," the White House statement said.

"I know that he has enjoyed the respect and confidence of our friends throughout the hemisphere."

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Aw, Men, It's Just A Game

"What's wrong with games? They're part of the American way of life. The fact there are 40 hours of game shows on television is a compliment to the audience's intelligence," says Ralph Andrews, pugnaciously.

Hal Humphrey

Andrews and his partner, Bill Yagemann, are co-producers of "You Don't Say," a daytime game-of-words show which NBC-TV is parlaying into a nighttime edition next Tuesday to replace the faltering "Redigo."

They are mad at the critics, mad at the networks and anyone else who dares to demean game shows.

After listening to Andrews for a while, you almost become convinced that all the world needs is a few more good TV game shows. We might even close up the United Nations and solve our problems by sitting down with Nikita and Mao to a game of tic-tac-toe.

"Just tell me this," Andrews continues, his temperature rising steadily. "What does the audience more good—to sit and watch that social worker in 'East Side, West Side' or relax in front of a game show?"

SHOULD YOU answer "East Side, West Side" to that question, Andrews reacts as if his civil rights had been abrogated.

"Television was made for escape," he adds. "If Bill and I are sensitive, it's because we feel persecuted. No one gave us a good review when 'You Don't Say' went on TV."

Andrews and Yagemann are especially resentful when a reviewer compares a game show to a dramatic series, then dismisses the game show as a piece of inconsequential TV miscellany.

While getting this vitally important briefing from Andrews and Yagemann on the true meaning of game shows to our American heritage, I also learned there is a big difference between a game show and a quiz show.

A QUIZ SHOW, according to Yagemann, generally can't be played by the audience at home. The questions are too tough for the average "relaxed" viewer. Without this participation from the audience, it cannot be a game show (Yagemann's Law.)

Even "What's My Line?" is not a game show in Yagemann's narrow view, because the home audience is tipped in advance to the answer. "What's My Line?" incidentally is produced by Mark Goodson and Bill Todman, for whom Andrews and Yagemann lose no love.

Goodson and Todman also produce "Password" and were threatening to sue Andrews and Yagemann. They thought "You Don't Say" is a steal of "Password," but apparently their attorneys didn't agree.

"They sent telegrams to all the agencies and tried to stop them from letting us have star names for 'You Don't Say,' but we pointed out to CBS that this came under a restraint of trade law," says Andrews.

BOTH ANDREWS and Yagemann have worked for Ralph Edwards, who was devising game shows for the Sailors on board the Pinta, Nina and Santa Maria.

"Playing games is nothing new in man's culture," Andrews says, continuing his filibuster. "And it rounds out his personality and character.

"Do you agree there is nothing more shallow than a man who has done nothing but study engineering? If he's just taught that and does nothing else, then believe me he is a shallow man.

"Tell me, is it wrong to play chess? And isn't a man better off watching a game show on TV than playing poker?"

The rest of you can watch "You Don't Say" on Tuesday nights. Me, I'll round up some chess players, and in between games we'll watch some old kinescopes on my home movie projector.

Peace Sought In Controversy Involving Parade

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Leaders of the Mummers, civil rights groups and the city seek today to resolve a controversy that threatened to flare into a demonstration before weather forced postponement of the traditional New Year's Day parade.

Mummers leaders, fearing the snow, ice and sleet would damage the flashy costumes, postponed the parade until Saturday.

Civil rights groups oppose use of blackface makeup by some marchers.

Despite the postponement, an informal group called the Second Streeters marched briefly and many wore blackface. There were no incidents and the Second Streeters said they would march again Saturday.

Magistrate Elias Myers, the parade director, banned use of blackface makeup this year, but rescinded the order after some clubs protested.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the Congress of Racial Equality then protested. The city said it would not award prizes to participants who wear blackface.

They told of conditions affecting Christians in their respective territories and had grim predictions for the future.

"We have heard words here today that have put the very flesh of the people who said them on the line," Pecoul told some 3,000 students at the closing session of the conference.

The Rev. Mr. McVeigh, in his remarks, said the Portugese government has come to look upon the Christian Gospel as subversive. He said he has been accused of teaching songs with hidden political meanings, such as "Onward Christian Soldiers" and "Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus."

"It is true that these hymns call on the Christian to be a soldier in the fight against sin, evil, and wrong in the world," he said. "But since the Portugese government is the very epitome of these, at least in some sense these hymns could be called subversive."

The Rev. Mr. Carstens predicted that the South African government would begin to persecute Christians this year. He said the government has "contained" all effective opposition to its apartheid (separation of the races) policies except the church. "But the institutional church's witness against apartheid has been vassalating, weak-kneed and hypocritical," he said.

"If this persecution does not take place, it will mean that the last faithful remnant of the true church will have become unfaithful."

Retired Steel Figure Claimed

CLEVELAND (AP) — Lawrence S. Hamaker, 67, retired vice president of marketing for Republic Steel Corp., died Wednesday at Lakeside Hospital.

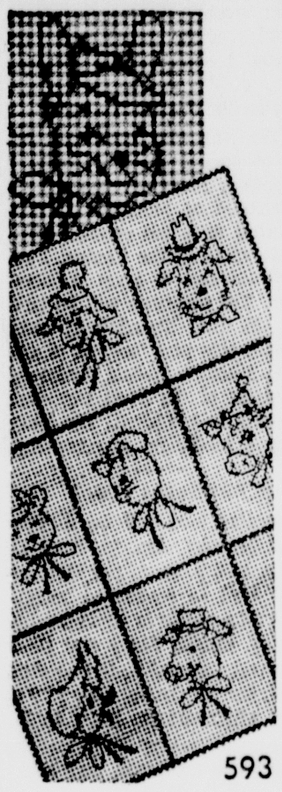

A native of Canton, Hamaker was educated in the schools there and served in World War I as a Marine drill instructor.

His first contact with the steel industry was an operator of a billet pusher on a bar mill heating furnace in one of Canton's mills. He joined Republic in 1930 as advertising and sales promotion manager after working for Berger Manufacturing Co. in Canton and Central Alloy Steel in Massillon.

He was a former president of the Canton Chamber of Commerce. He was transferred by Republic to Cleveland in 1942.

He is survived by his widow, the former Ethel C. Siple, whom he married in 1921, and a son, Lawrence S. Jr. of Bethel Park, Pa. Services will be Saturday in Canton.

Ohio Native To Be Envoy To Argentina

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) —President Johnson plans to nominate Edwin M. Martin, a veteran foreign service officer, as ambassador to Argentina.

The 55-year-old native of Dayton, Ohio, will succeed Robert McClintock, who, in turn, "is expected to be appointed to another important post in the near future," a White House announcement said Wednesday.

Martin had been assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs during the Kennedy administration. After Johnson became President he named Thomas C. Mann, then ambassador to Mexico, to succeed Martin.

"As assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs he has become intimately involved with our relations with Latin America and has a deep personal dedication to the objectives of the Alliance for Progress," the White House statement said.

"I know that he has enjoyed the respect and confidence of our friends throughout the hemisphere."

Ohio Traffic Claims Only 4 Over Holiday

Traffic	4

By The Associated Press

Ohio motorists kept the death toll on the state's highways below normal during the New Year's holiday, despite ice and snow-covered roads that made driving extremely hazardous.

In the 48-hour holiday period from 12:01 a.m. Tuesday to 12:01 a.m. Thursday, four traffic deaths were reported to The Associated Press.

By comparison, during an equally long but non - holiday period three weeks ago, six highway fatalities occurred. And during the New Year's holiday period of 1962, 11 persons were killed in traffic. However, that count covered a 102-hour period which included a weekend.

Thirteen persons were killed in traffic during the 48-hour Christmas holiday last week.

Safety officials expressed the belief that the extremely poor condition of the state's roads due to the New Year's Day snowstorm which dumped from five to ten inches of snow over Ohio contributed to the low death toll the last two days by discouraging unnecessary travel.

In addition to the highway fatalities, eight persons died in fires—four of them in a single blaze in Youngstown—and two deaths resulted from miscellaneous accidents for an overall accidental holiday death toll of 14.

The fatalities:

Tuesday

Joshua Hall Jr., 12; Josephine, 7; Brenda 4, and Deveter, 2, all children of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Hall, Youngstown, in a fire that destroyed their home.

Margaret Henke, 71, Elyria, in a fire at her home.

Courtley William Moore, 62, Dayton, in a fire that destroyed his home.

Patricia Rivers, 21, Middletown, when her car crashed into a tree in Middletown.

Wednesday

Bruce J. McCay, 37, Lakewood, when he got out of his disabled vehicle and was hit by a car while he was standing on Interstate 90 in Lake County.

William Woods, 32, Cleveland, bled to death after accidentally shooting himself in the leg while celebrating New Year's.

Allan Turner, 27, Macedonia, in a single-car accident on Ohio 8 near Akron.

Deborah Jesberger, 4, Milan, when the car she was in crashed into a truck on Ohio 250 some 12 miles south of Sandusky.

Julius Ruuska, 71, resident of the Ashtabula County Home, in a 10-foot fall from a barn at the home.

Walter Smiecinski, 38, and son, Kenneth, 8, Cleveland, in a fire in their home.

Viet Assembly Meets To Form New Government

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — a 59-member assembly convened in Saigon today to frame a new constitution and establish a form of government for South Viet Nam based on democratic principles.

The assembly, called the Council of Notables, will have no legislative authority. But it is supposed to serve as an interim link between the Vietnamese people and the provisional government installed by the military leaders who overthrew President Ngo Dinh Diem two months ago.

Made up largely of leading opponents of the Diem regime, the council represents a wide range of political factions.

Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh who led the coup, is provisional chief of state. He presided at the opening session of the council. U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and the rest of the diplomatic corps also were present.

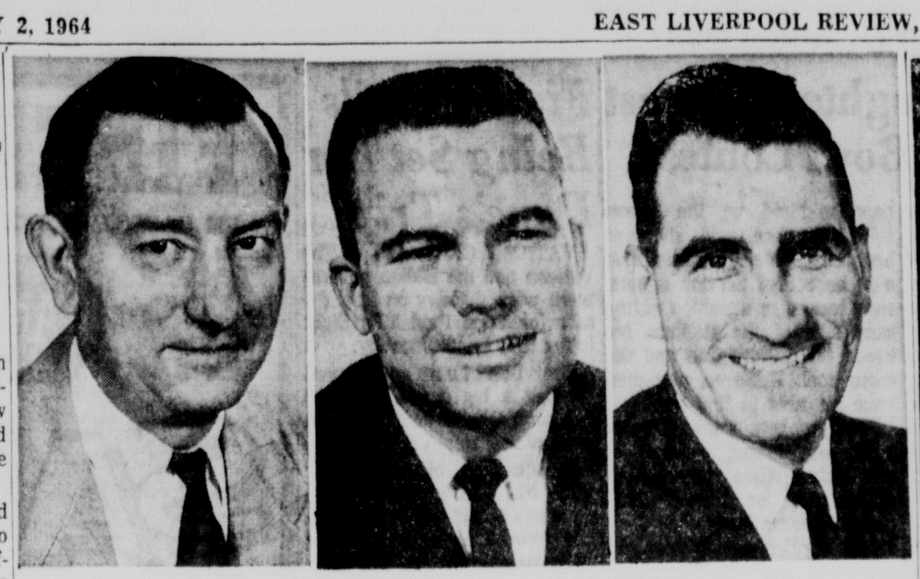

Minh rejected both communism and neutralism for South Viet Nam, saying "to tolerate neutralism is to pave the way for communism."

Youth Sees Violent Death Of His Parents

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—A teenager witnessed the violent death of his parents after a New Year's Day quarrel, Greene County Sheriff Russell Bradley reported.

The boy, James Henderson, 15, saw his father, Robert, shoot his mother, Hazel, with a double-barrel shotgun, then turn the gun on himself, the sheriff said. Murder and suicide was the ruling. Both parents were 32.

Carnegie Tech's basketball record holder is Bill Soffa. Between 1957-61 he scored 1,571 points.

Only 4 Days Remaining

More Of West Berliners Expected To Cross Wall

BERLIN (AP)—A new rush of West Berliners crossing the wall is expected with only four more days remaining on the agreement allowing visits to East Berlin.

A total of 172,740 West Berliners greeted the new year with relatives behind the wall, pushing past 600,000 the number of visitors to the Red sector since the visits began Dec. 19.

The huge flow of West Berliners placed new pressure on Mayor Willy Brandt's West Berlin government to discuss an extension of the visiting arrangement with the Communist Esst German regime.

The agreement expires at midnight Sunday.

Brandt has said he will try to renew the agreement, which has given West Berliners their first chance to see relatives in East Berlin since the Communists built the wall in August 1961.

He also is under opposite pressure from Allied and West German officials and West Berlin newspapers who regard any negotiations with the East German regime as recognition and fear such talks can only strengthen the Communist concept of a divided Germany and a neutralized West Berlin.

Brandt describes the pass agreement as a purely technical, humanitarian arrangement without the implications of an international agreement between states.

A gay and happy throng returned from East Berlin early New Year's Day after welcoming 1964 with a frenzy of song and drink. East Berlin's Karl Marx Allee was aglow with fireworks.

As stragglers met the extended 5 a.m. deadline for returning on New Year's morn, new visitors lined up for visits during the day. Several thousand persons had passes for both days and were allowed to spend the night in East Berlin.

Soviet, Red China Exchange New Year Friendship Notes

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union and Communist China have exchanged their usual New Year's Day protestations of friendship — without a word about the bitter ideological dispute that strains their relationship.

Both greetings predicted the estranged allies would march together to new successes in 1964.

"The friendship between the peoples of China and the Soviet Union is everlasting and unbreakable," said the greeting from Peking.

The message was signed by Communist Chairman Mao Tzetung, Premier Chou En-lai and other leaders. It was sent to Premier Khrushchev and President Leonid Brezhnev.

Khrushchev sent a greeting to Mao Wednesday, saying "The Soviet people are sincerely happy at the achievements of our friend and ally the Chinese people on their path to socialism."

The greeting also pledged the Soviet Union "to strengthen friendship, unity and solidarity among all countries of socialism (communism)."

The Soviet hierarchy saw in the new year at a big reception in the Kremlin.

Khrushchev, in an expansive mood, proposed 13 toasts, including an appeal for further lessening of cold war tensions in 1964.

Newell Skater Hurt; Man Cut On Tin Can

A Newell girl injured ice skating and a Lawrenceville man hurt on a tin can were among four area residents treated at City Hospital Wednesday.

Cynthia Jividen, 11, daughter of Delmar Jividen, 904 Grant St., Newell, suffered a fracture of the right leg while skating.

Daniel Wright of Lawrenceville was treated for a laceration of the right index finger received on a can at home.

Abe Samberson, 42, of 1624 Cleveland Ave. suffered rib injuries in a fall at home.

Karl Samples, 16 - month-old son of Karl Samples, 1845 Idaho Ave., received a head injury in a fall from an auto.

Columbus Man Given Medical Group Position

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — George H. Saville of Columbus was appointed today to the post of executive secretary of the Ohio State Medical Association, succeeding Charles S. Nelson who retired Dec. 31 after 35 years with the association.

Dr. Horatio T. Pease of Wadsworth, association president, announced the appointment. Saville, who joined the association staff 29 years ago, steps up from the post of assistant executive secretary and director of public relations.

He will be succeeded in the latter post by Hart F. Page of Columbus, who joined the association's staff as assistant director of public relations in 1946.

Dr. Pease said Saville also will succeed Nelson as assistant managing editor and business manager of "The Ohio State Medical Journal," the 9,700-member organization's monthly medical magazine.

The new executive secretary was born in Scotland and spent his early years in Conneaut, Ohio. He was graduated by Ohio Wesleyan University in 1922.

Johnson's Daughters Almost Unnoticed At Bowl Contest

DALLAS (AP) — President Johnson's daughters, almost unnoticed in the crowd of 75,500 football fans, saw Texas defeat Navy 28-6 in the Cotton Bowl Wednesday.

Lynda Bird, 19, a sophomore at the university, sat on the Navy side of the field near the 50-yard line. She and her escort, an unidentified Midshipman, remained in their seats at halftime and munched hot dogs.

Tall, dark-haired Lynda Bird watched part of the game through white-rimmed sunglasses as protection from the bright winter glare. Despite her Navy escort, she stood and cheered for Texas.

Lucy Baines, 16, had a seat near midfield on the Texas side, but police said she and her party, which they identified only as Secret Service agents, were moved to a section on the same side of the stadium between the 10-yard line and the north goal. However, newsmen were not able to find her.

Photographers were discouraged from taking pictures of the girls. When cameramen edged near or turned long-range cameras on Lynda Bird, Secret Service agents scowled, and shook their heads, asking the photographers to move on. One Associated Press photographer succeeded in getting a close-up picture, however, of Miss Johnson and her escort.

Check Of Wires Being Eyed In Nursing Homes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Inspection of electrical wiring in all Ohio nursing homes may be undertaken by the state health department.

Officials said today that department attorneys are looking into steps necessary to require such inspections.

The action followed a report Tuesday by state Fire Marshal Fred Rice blaming overloaded circuits for the Fitchville nursing home blaze fatal to 63 patients Nov. 23.

Gov. James A. Rhodes termed the fire marshal's report comprehensive and indicated a belief that the recommendations should be carried out. Rhodes' office said the health department has authority to undertake inspections under special conditions, and stressed that qualified electricians would do the work.

It was asserted that inspections should not await the outcome of lengthy court litigation holding in abeyance the enforcement of regulations for nursing homes adopted recently by the Public Health Council.

Final Details Being Set For Pope's Trip

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican and the Italian government worked today on final details for Pope Paul VI's flight to the Holy Land Saturday.

The Italian government planned a big send-off for the Roman Catholic pontiff as the head of the tiny Vatican state.

A squadron of Italian air force F84 jet fighters was assigned to escort the Pope's special Alitalia Airlines jetliner to international waters. The military planes also will greet the Pope's return flight from Jordan and Israel Monday.

Romans who attended New Year's Day masses at churches along the papal route to the airport were told the time to gather to cheer the pontiff on his way.

Bells in Rome's 450 churches will peal at the moment of takeoff.

Pope Paul was in the midst of a 3-day period of intensified prayer to prepare for his historic trip.

An afternoon spiritual retreat, or period of withdrawal from normal routine to pray and meditate, was scheduled in a Vatican chapel for the three cardinals and 30 other Vatican aides who will accompany the pontiff.

County Contributions For CROP Total $127

LISBON — Columbiana County area residents have paid $127.54 towards the Christian Rural Overseas Program, according to Miss Diane Armstrong, secretary - treasurer. The drive was held during November and December.

The figure includes only local contributions and does not list funds which may have been sent direct to the state office at Columbus. She expects the state report which will list the total amount later this month.

Rev. Frank Hare of the Beaver Valley United Presbyterian Larger Parish was the county CROP chairman. Last year's complete total was $1,015.

Wellsville Area Infant May Be First For 1964

The infant daughter of a Wellsville couple appears to be the "First Baby of 1964" and the winner of a contest sponsored by local merchants.

A 5-pound, 2-ounce baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hipsley, 1116 Esther Ave., Wellsville, at 1:05 a. m. Wednesday at City Hospital. The father is a musician.

The nearest competitor appears to be a son born at 4:39 a. m. to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Masters, 215-A Washington St., Newell, at the hospital.

A large number of gifts will go to the child whose parents file a statement from the attending physician certifying the date, hour and minute of the first baby's birth.

The statements must be filed at The Review office today.

City Hospital reported three births New Year's Day.

LISBON — Columbiana County area residents have paid $127.54 towards the Christian Rural Overseas Program, according to Miss Diane Armstrong, secretary - treasurer. The drive was held during November and December.

The figure includes only local contributions and does not list funds which may have been sent direct to the state office at Columbus. She expects the state report which will list the total amount later this month.

Rev. Frank Hare of the Beaver Valley United Presbyterian Larger Parish was the county CROP chairman. Last year's complete total was $1,015.

Wellsville Area Infant May Be First For 1964

The infant daughter of a Wellsville couple appears to be the "First Baby of 1964" and the winner of a contest sponsored by local merchants.

A 5-pound, 2-ounce baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hipsley, 1116 Esther Ave., Wellsville, at 1:05 a. m. Wednesday at City Hospital. The father is a musician.

The nearest competitor appears to be a son born at 4:39 a. m. to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Masters, 215-A Washington St., Newell, at the hospital.

A large number of gifts will go to the child whose parents file a statement from the attending physician certifying the date, hour and minute of the first baby's birth.

The statements must be filed at The Review office today.

City Hospital reported three births New Year's Day.

4-H News

Twenty-seven attended a coverdish dinner and gift exchange of the Fashionette 4-H Club Monday at the Franklin School.

Plans were made to present a program at a meeting of the Franklin Parent - Teacher Organization Jan. 20. Next meeting will be Jan. 13 with Mrs. George McPherson, advisor, in charge.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I just wanted to let you know you had a hand in helping a prisoner become rehabilitated.

I married my husband without knowing he violated his parole. It was a terrible shock to me when he was taken from our home and had to serve 16 months in prison.

During that time I wrote to you for moral support and guidance. You told me how I could best help him and myself. I followed your advice closely. I visited him 34 times and wrote him 445 letters. One of my letters contained a clipping from your column. It was your definition of maturity.

My husband is home now and we are starting our marriage again — this time on the right foot. He told me your column on maturity gave him real insight into his own life and made him realize where and why he had failed.

He read it so many times he memorized it. I might add that column is tattered and worn but he still carries it with him.

Thank you, Ann, for helping someone very dear to me — and God bless you. — A VERY GRATEFUL WOMAN.

Dear Friend: Thank you for your generous expression of gratitude. The most rewarding part of this work is knowing that occasionally I can provide someone with solace, strength or self-understanding.

Since the column your husband is carrying in his wallet is now tattered and worn, I'm herewith reprinting my definition of maturity — especially for him.

MATURITY is many things. First it is the ability to base a judgment on the Big Picture—The Long Haul. It means being able to pass up the fun-for-the-minute and select the course of action which will pay off later. One of the characteristics of infancy is the "I want it NOW approach." Grown-up people can wait.

Maturity is the ability to stick with a project or a situation until it is finished. The adult who constantly is changing jobs, changing friends and changing mates — is immature. He cannot stick it out because he has not grownup. Everything seems to turn sour after awhile.

Maturity is the capacity to face unpleasantness, frustration, discomfort and defeat without complaint or collapse. The mature person knows he can't have everything his own way. He is able to defer to circumstances, to other people — and to time.

Maturity is the ability to live up to your responsibilities, and this means being dependable. It means keeping your word. And dependability equates with personal integrity. Do you mean what you say — and say what you mean?

THE WORLD is filled with people who can't be counted on. People who never seem to come through in the clutches. People who break promises and substitute alibis for performance. They show up late — or not at all. They are confused and disorganized. Their lives are a chaotic maze of unfinished business.

Maturity is the ability to make a decision and stand by it. Immature people spend their lives exploring endless possibilities and then do nothing. Action requires courage And there is no maturity without courage. . . .

Maturity is the ability to harness your abilities and your energies and to do more than is expected. The mature person refuses to settle for mediocrity. He would rather aim high and miss the mark than aim low — and make it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Midland Lighting Winners Named

The Midland Area Chamber of Commerce has announced winners of its annual home decorating contest, which was judged after Christmas.

Max T. Williams of Route 68, Industry, won first place and a $25 merchandise prize; John Radella, 1100 Beaver Ave., second, $15, and Mrs. Frank Delvaux, 800 Penn Ave., third, $10.

There were several other outstanding displays which had won in previous years and were deserving of prizes, but the Chamber said it is attempting to recognize others who also have worked hard on their entries.

The winners will be notified by a letter from the Chamber, which commended all residents for a well-decorated town, especially in the Spring Ln., Lincoln Park and Sunny View areas.

Tusek Family Acrobat Team To Tour Fairs

WEST POINT — The five children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tusek will have something to do during the long winter evenings — practicing their acrobatic balancing act for a tour of state and county fairs next summer.

The "Five Tuseks," two tirls and three boys from 5 to 15, practice between one and two hours daily, and in the past year they have won several trophies.

Kathy Tusek, 15, is a sophomore at Beaver Local High School; Matt Tusek, 12, in grade 7 at Beaver Local Public School; Mark Tusek, 9, in Grade 4, and Tina Tusek, 6, Grade 1, both of West Point School, and Mike Tusek, 5.

The performed as amateurs at Crile Veterans' Hospital in Cleveland, the Oakland Veterans' Hospital at Pittsburgh and the Minerva Rotary Club's crippled children's show.

They won first place at the Canfield Fair, last Labor Day and was judged the best act at the Beaver Local talent show Dec. 13.

The professional appearances included the Christmas show for veteran employes of the Weirton Steel Co. at the Weirton Community Center Dec. 14 and the Masonic Temple Christmas show for the Electrical Workers Union in Cleveland Dec. 18.

They are students of the Cassidy Dance Studio at Alliance.

Awards Given Scouts At Trinity Meeting

Awards were presented at the annual wiener and sauerkraut meeting of Cub Scout Pack 12 at the Trinity United Presbyterian Church Monday evening.

Recipients were Raymond Wagner, Steve Sulkes, Kenny Cochran and Steve Galas.

Den 6 opened and Dens 2 and 4 presented skits. It was announced that the boys contributed toys for the Christmas project of the Community Rescue Mission.

Mrs. Robert Heacock, mother of Den 2, conducted a game.

Den 2 closed.

A planning committee meeting will be held Monday night at the home of Mrs. Erma Locke of Wyoming Ave.

Texas Ships Navy Out Of Cotton Bowl With 28-6 Loss

Illini Take Rose Battle; 'Bama Tops Ole Miss; Nebraska Wins

By MIKE RATCHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

His name is Emmett Augustus Carlisle III. They call him Duke for short. But they've been calling him great since he engineered Texas' Cotton Bowl over Navy.

Duke Carlisle has been king in Dallas for almost 24 hours now, or since he dropped his "other quarterback" label on the 23-yard line, raced 19 yards on his first carry and continued to steer the national champion Longhorns to a 28-6 walloping of second-ranked Navy.

When he trotted off the field, in the third quarter with the game clinched, Carlisle had passed 58 and 63 yards to Phil Harris for touchdown, bolted nine yards for another and overshadowed the Middies celebrated quarterback—All - America and Heiseman Trophy winner Roger Staubach.

Asked after the game which lineman impressed him most, Staubach offered this key to the outcome of the game:

"Well, they all had me down at one time or another and I didn't notice their numbers."

Navy Coach Wayne Hardin wrapped it all up for the Longhorns a bit more eloquently.

"Texas did everything a national champion is supposed to do and deserves the No. 1 rating," he said.

Third-ranked Illinois, meanwhile, won the granddaddy of all the college football bowls, overcoming a 7-3 halftime deficity on short touchdown plunges by Jim Warren and Jim Grabowski for a 17-7 Rose Bowl victory in Pasadena over a crippled Washington team.

Ted Davis kicked field goals of 46, 48, 31 and 22 yards for all of Alabama's points in a 12-7 Sugar Bowl triumph over Mississippi at New Orleans and Nebraska rode Dennis Claridge's 68-yard touchdown jaunt and a pair of field goals by Dave Thiesen to a 13-7 Orange Bowl victory over Auburn at Miami.

But the day belonged to Texas from the time Carlisle completed his first pass until he sat down with a Cotton Bowl record for a total offense, gaining 213 yards passing and 54 rushing for a 267 total. Staubach also set a Cotton Bowl record with 21 completions in 31 attempts for 228 yards.

But Staubach's rushing yardage was minus 47, indicating the number of times he met Texas lineman in the Navy backfield.

Staubach scored the only Navy touchdown, a two-yard run in the fourth quarter.

The turning point for Illinois may have come in the first quarter when Washington, already hurt by the loss of injured fullback Junior Coffey, lost quarterback Bill Douglas with a dislocated left knee and reserve fullback Mike Kuklenski with a broken left leg.

Bill Siler took over for Douglas and engineered a second quarter touchdown drive, capped by Dave Kopay's seven-yard run. Illinois got three points back on Jim Plankerhorn's 32-yard field goal, then intercepted a Siler pass in the third quarter to set up the go-ahead touchdown.

George Donnelly picked off the pass and Mike Taliaferro eventually lobbed a pitch out to Warren, who dashed the final two yards. Grabowski, eating up time and yardage, rushed 11 times in the final drive before cracking over from the one. Grabowski was tapped as the game's outstanding player after gaining with 125 yards in 23 carries.

Alabama kept banging away at Mississippi, but never was able to get beyond the six-yard line. However, Davis, who hasn't run a play from scrimmage since he was injured as a high school quarterback, supplied the points. His 46-yarder and the 48-yarder that followed were the longest in major bowl history.

The Rebels, meanwhile, were unable to score until the fourth quarter when Perry Lee Dunn connected with Larry Smith on a five-yard touchdown pass. Mississippi threatened twice more—Dunn was stopped on the two in a fourth down situation and Billy Piper intercepted a pass in the waning seconds.

At the Orange Bowl, Claridge broke through the line on the second play of the game and sprinted 68 yards for a Nebraska touchdown. Before the half ended, Thiesen had kicked 31 and 36 yard field goals for a 13-0 lead. But it was Auburn that dominated play after that.

All-America Jimmy Sidle started the Tigers moving, sweeping wide on a 13-yard dash for the first touchdown. Then he ran and passed Auburn 69 yards to the Nebraska 11, where the Cornhuskers stiffened, and knocked down Sidle's fourth down pass with 1:25 left.

Defense Wins It For Crimson Tide

By MIKE BARRON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Defense, Davis and Determination added up to a 12-7 Sugar Bowl football upset and a prayer of thanksgiving for Alabama Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant.

"Defense was the difference," Bryant said Wednesday after his Crimson Tide held Mississippi to its lowest score since the Rebels were tied 0-0 by Memphis State last September. Defense—and senior Tom Davis' record four field goals.

Bryant halted the revelry in the Alabama dressing room to give a quiet prayer of thanks for the victory which handed Mississippi its first loss in 20 games. He and his players knelt to pray and then sprang up with loud cheers.

The 21-year-old Davis kicked three pointers of 31, 22, 46 and 48 yards to account for all Alabama points. First his 46-yard kick and then his 48-yarder set records for the longest field goals in any major bowl game.

Alabama had piled up a 12-0 lead before butter-finger Mississippi finally got started in the fourth quarter. The Rebels didn't even make a first down in the first half, fumbling away chance after chance and had not threatened seriously until quarterback Perry Lee Dunn completed a 42-yard pass to wingback Dave Wells at the Alabama 18 in the fourth period.

Five plays later Dunn tossed a five-yard scoring pass to back Larry Smith and Billy Carl Irwin added the extra point.

Eleven minutes and 58 seconds remained, but the scoring was over.

Discussion On Sub Rule Faces NCAA

NEW YORK (AP)—The official forecast is for calm, smooth sailing, but squalls are a definite possibility for the week-long annual convention of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, governing body for most of the nation's collegiate athletics.

The convention proper doesn't open until next Monday, but various coaching groups and associations begin their meetings Friday, including the baseball and track groups.

And it's from one such group—the Football Rules Committee—that one of the major issues could develop. That involves the controversial substutition rule used this season for the first time.

The committee has circulated a questionaire concerning the rule and is expected to make the results public, possibily along with recommendations for a change.

In all 22 groups and committees have meetings scheduled either before or during the convention of the association that now counts a membership of 612 colleges and universities.

Hardin Tells Banquet Of Losses As Coach

DALLAS (AP) — At the banquet following the Cotton Bowl game, Wayne Hardin was introduced as "the only Navy coach who ever has beaten Army five straight."

The red-haired Hardin smiled and said: "Don't forget that Navy has only lost two bowl games in history, and I was the coach both times."

Lost For Possibly 2 Weeks

Ankle Injury Sidelines Stover

East Liverpool suffered a big blow to its basketball forces when Coach Jim Harris announced today that Randy Stover, the 6-4 pivot man for the Potters, would be lost to the squad for almost two weeks.

Stover hasn't practiced all week after spraining his ankle in practice last Saturday. Stover was involved in a jump ball and came down on the foot of another player and turned his ankle.

The loss of Stover puts a different outlook on the game with Oak Glen Friday night at Memorial Auditorium.

With Stover in the lineup the Potters had an edge in height but now Oak Glen will show a slight advantage in height.

Harris said Bill Hall will go into the pivot while Junior Frank Taylor will be moved into a starting spot. Harris hopes that Taylor can give the Potters some help in the rebounding department.

Rounding out the starting lineup will be Frank McComas, Bob Foranzo and Bob Maltarich. Maltarich will be East Liverpool's tallest player in the lineup at 6-1.

The two reserve teams will open Friday's action at 7 with the varsity tilt about 8:30.

Duke Carlisle Sparks Longhorns

No Doubt About No. 1 Team Now

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP)—Smirking and word-eating were the major activities in the vicinity of the Cotton Bowl today.

The satisfied smile was pasted on the face of national champion Texas.

If there was any doubt—and Navy, for one, had some—that the Longhorns were the No. 1 college football team in the land, the Texans removed it swiftly with a 28-6 trouncing of the Middies Wednesday.

The word-eating was not completely confined to Navy, although there haven't been so many red faces around the fleet since they laughed at Gen. Billy Mitchell when he said he could sink battleships with airplanes.

There were those who had called the Texas offense: "Left tackle, right tackle—and punt."

And the ones who said that Texas "doesn't beat you, it bores you to death."

Coach Darrell Royal's Texas team came up with a fabulously resourceful offense, guided by a quarterback named Duke Carlisle.

Carlisle, whose real name is Emmett Augustus Carliste III, took Texas 78 yards in six plays from the opening kickoff. That stunned the No. 2 ranked Middies almost as much as the way it was done.

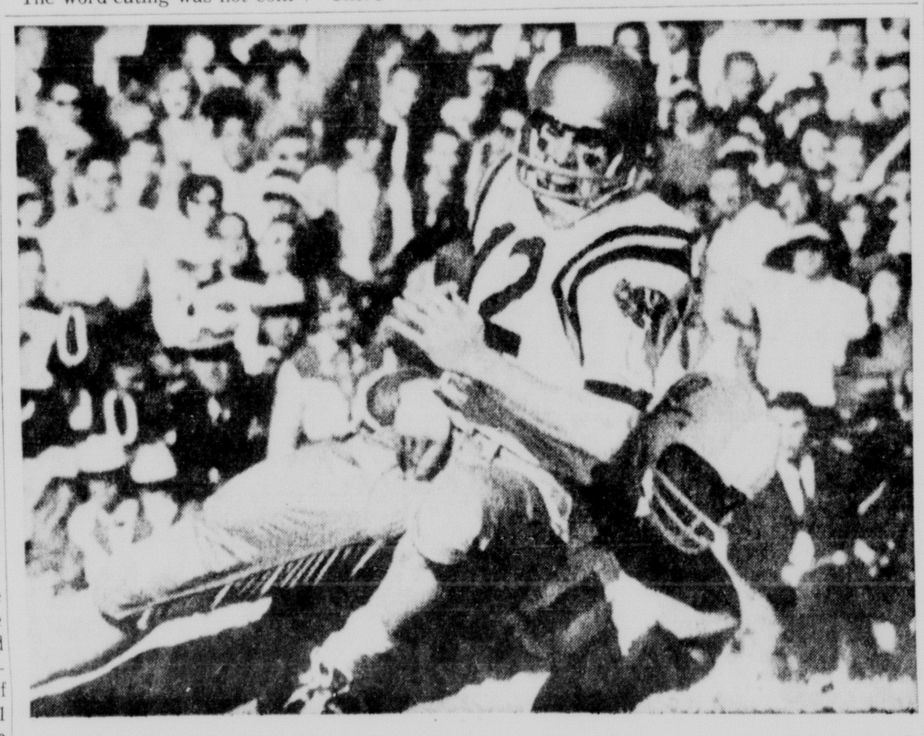

Carlisle sent his runners into the line twice and then ran for 19 yards. Three plays later he threw to wingback Phil Harris on a play that covered 58 yards for a touchdown.

In the second quarter, Carlisle passed on first down from his own 37, again to Harris, again for a touchdown.

Then the Texas defense detached the football from Navy's Jolly Roger Staubach on the Navy 34, and Carlisle took the Longhorns in again. He scored this one himself on a keeper from nine yards out.

That made it 21-0 at the half and the 75,504 people sitting in 45 degree sunshine might as well have staged their game-end traffic jam early.

Carlisle played a little less than three quarters and established a Cotton Bowl record for total offense, 267 yards. He passed for 213, and was the team's leading rusher with 54.

THIS BECAME a familiar sight Wednesday in the Cotton Bowl as Roger Staubach (12) of Navy is hauled down again by Texas All-American Scott Appleton. The hard rushing Texas line, led by Appleton, kept Staubach's running game bottled up most of the afternoon. (UPI Telephoto)

Sophomore Back Runs Illinois To Victory In Rose Bowl

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Rugged Big Ten champion Illinois still owns a perfect Rose Bowl record, riding to success on the shoulders of a brawny fullback for the third time in the granddaddy of all bowl games.

It was Jim Grabowski, a 207-pound sophomore who did it Wednesday, leading Illinois to a 17-7 come-from-behind triumph of Big Six titlist Washington.

To 100,000 fans, sundrenched in 85-degree weather and countless TV fans, perhaps the first quarter injury of Washington quarterback Bill Douglas might have been the determining factor in the puncturing of Huskie Coach Jim Owens' Rose Bowl charm.

It was not a game of spectacular offense and it had a lot of errors.

There were 10 fumbles, five by each team, and three stolen Washington passes. But it also had Grabowski ripping through the stubborn Huskies for 125 yards on 23 carries.

That alone wore down Washington, which led 7-3 at halftime, and won Grabowski the outstanding player of the game award given by the Helms foundation.

Assistant Coach Bill Tate won the same honor for his hero's role in Illinois' 40-7 Rose Bowl rout of Stanford in the 1952 game. Fullback Tate carried 20 times for 150 yards in that one-sided contest.

But Tate acknowledged in the gleeful Illini dressing room later:

"Grabowski was better than I was and maybe better than Julie Rykovich was in the 1947 Rose Bowl game."

In the 1947 Illinois 45-14 belting of UCLA, fullback Rykovich and Buddy Young shared outstanding player honors.

Douglas' severely - wrenched left knee, coming after he guided Washington 41-yards on an opening drive, brought in still rusty quarterback Bill Siler.

Although a regular in the 1962 season, Siler had a tough time of it, with three interceptions, two of which were snagged by defensive star George Donnelly and led to both Illini touchdowns in the second half.

Donnelly's final filch late in the third quarter came on the Illini 14, not only squelching the final Huskie threat but also precipitating an 85-yard Illinois scoring drive.

Appleton Sidesteps Pro Scouts

By The Associated Press

Texas tackle Scott Appleton, skillfully dodging the buck-passers, is on his way to the Hula Bowl in Honolulu, where he likely will find palm trees waving in the breeze and dollar bills waving in his face.

Appleton, an All-America was named the outstanding lineman in the Cotton Bowl after the Longhorns' 28-6 victory over Navy Wednesday, sidestepped the professional football talent scouts after the game. Asked which way he was leaning, Appleton said:

"I haven't decided a thing."

Appleton is the No. 1 catch still remaining in the checkbook war between the National and American football leagues. He is the only first round draft choice in either league not committed.

The Pittsburgh Steelers traded flanker Buddy Dial to Dallas for the NFL rights to Appleton. The Houston Oilers hold the AFL rights.

Appleton became the last remaining No. 1 pick up for grabs when the NFL signed the much-pursued Nebraska linemen, All-America guard Bob Brown and tackle Lloyd Voss, efter the Cornhuskers' 13-7 Orange Bowl victory over Auburn.

Brown signed with the Philadelphia Eagles and Voss with the Green Bay Packers, giving the NFL signed contracts from 12 of their 14 first-round draft picks.

Texas Ships Navy Out Of Cotton Bowl With 28-6 Loss

By MIKE RATCHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

His name is Emmett Augustus Carlisle III. They call him Duke for short. But they've been calling him great since he engineered Texas' Cotton Bowl over Navy.

Duke Carlisle has been king in Dallas for almost 24 hours now, or since he dropped his "other quarterback" label on the 23-yard line, raced 19 yards on his first carry and continued to steer the national champion Longhorns to a 28-6 walloping of second-ranked Navy.

When he trotted off the field, in the third quarter with the game clinched, Carlisle had passed 58 and 63 yards to Phil Harris for touchdown, bolted nine yards for another and overshadowed the Middies celebrated quarterback—All - America and Heiseman Trophy winner Roger Staubach.

Asked after the game which lineman impressed him most, Staubach offered this key to the outcome of the game:

"Well, they all had me down at one time or another and I didn't notice their numbers."

Navy Coach Wayne Hardin wrapped it all up for the Longhorns a bit more eloquently.

"Texas did everything a national champion is supposed to do and deserves the No. 1 rating," he said.

Third-ranked Illinois, meanwhile, won the granddaddy of all the college football bowls, overcoming a 7-3 halftime deficity on short touchdown plunges by Jim Warren and Jim Grabowski for a 17-7 Rose Bowl victory in Pasadena over a crippled Washington team.

Ted Davis kicked field goals of 46, 48, 31 and 22 yards for all of Alabama's points in a 12-7 Sugar Bowl triumph over Mississippi at New Orleans and Nebraska rode Dennis Claridge's 68-yard touchdown jaunt and a pair of field goals by Dave Thiesen to a 13-7 Orange Bowl victory over Auburn at Miami.

But the day belonged to Texas from the time Carlisle completed his first pass until he sat down with a Cotton Bowl record for a total offense, gaining 213 yards passing and 54 rushing for a 267 total. Staubach also set a Cotton Bowl record with 21 completions in 31 attempts for 228 yards.

But Staubach's rushing yardage was minus 47, indicating the number of times he met Texas lineman in the Navy backfield.

Staubach scored the only Navy touchdown, a two-yard run in the fourth quarter.

The turning point for Illinois may have come in the first quarter when Washington, already hurt by the loss of injured fullback Junior Coffey, lost quarterback Bill Douglas with a dislocated left knee and reserve fullback Mike Kuklenski with a broken left leg.

Bill Siler took over for Douglas and engineered a second quarter touchdown drive, capped by Dave Kopay's seven-yard run. Illinois got three points back on Jim Plankerhorn's 32-yard field goal, then intercepted a Siler pass in the third quarter to set up the go-ahead touchdown.

George Donnelly picked off the pass and Mike Taliaferro eventually lobbed a pitch out to Warren, who dashed the final two yards. Grabowski, eating up time and yardage, rushed 11 times in the final drive before cracking over from the one. Grabowski was tapped as the game's outstanding player after gaining with 125 yards in 23 carries.

Alabama kept banging away at Mississippi, but never was able to get beyond the six-yard line. However, Davis, who hasn't run a play from scrimmage since he was injured as a high school quarterback, supplied the points. His 46-yarder and the 48-yarder that followed were the longest in major bowl history.

The Rebels, meanwhile, were unable to score until the fourth quarter when Perry Lee Dunn connected with Larry Smith on a five-yard touchdown pass. Mississippi threatened twice more—Dunn was stopped on the two in a fourth down situation and Billy Piper intercepted a pass in the waning seconds.

At the Orange Bowl, Claridge broke through the line on the second play of the game and sprinted 68 yards for a Nebraska touchdown. Before the half ended, Thiesen had kicked 31 and 36 yard field goals for a 13-0 lead. But it was Auburn that dominated play after that.

All-America Jimmy Sidle started the Tigers moving, sweeping wide on a 13-yard dash for the first touchdown. Then he ran and passed Auburn 69 yards to the Nebraska 11, where the Cornhuskers stiffened, and knocked down Sidle's fourth down pass with 1:25 left.

Defense Wins It For Crimson Tide

By MIKE BARRON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Defense, Davis and Determination added up to a 12-7 Sugar Bowl football upset and a prayer of thanksgiving for Alabama Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant.

"Defense was the difference," Bryant said Wednesday after his Crimson Tide held Mississippi to its lowest score since the Rebels were tied 0-0 by Memphis State last September. Defense—and senior Tom Davis' record four field goals.

Bryant halted the revelry in the Alabama dressing room to give a quiet prayer of thanks for the victory which handed Mississippi its first loss in 20 games. He and his players knelt to pray and then sprang up with loud cheers.

The 21-year-old Davis kicked three pointers of 31, 22, 46 and 48 yards to account for all Alabama points. First his 46-yard kick and then his 48-yarder set records for the longest field goals in any major bowl game.

Alabama had piled up a 12-0 lead before butter-finger Mississippi finally got started in the fourth quarter. The Rebels didn't even make a first down in the first half, fumbling away chance after chance and had not threatened seriously until quarterback Perry Lee Dunn completed a 42-yard pass to wingback Dave Wells at the Alabama 18 in the fourth period.

Five plays later Dunn tossed a five-yard scoring pass to back Larry Smith and Billy Carl Irwin added the extra point.

Eleven minutes and 58 seconds remained, but the scoring was over.

Discussion On Sub Rule Faces NCAA

NEW YORK (AP)—The official forecast is for calm, smooth sailing, but squalls are a definite possibility for the week-long annual convention of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, governing body for most of the nation's collegiate athletics.

The convention proper doesn't open until next Monday, but various coaching groups and associations begin their meetings Friday, including the baseball and track groups.

And it's from one such group—the Football Rules Committee—that one of the major issues could develop. That involves the controversial substutition rule used this season for the first time.

The committee has circulated a questionaire concerning the rule and is expected to make the results public, possibily along with recommendations for a change.

In all 22 groups and committees have meetings scheduled either before or during the convention of the association that now counts a membership of 612 colleges and universities.

Hardin Tells Banquet Of Losses As Coach

DALLAS (AP) — At the banquet following the Cotton Bowl game, Wayne Hardin was introduced as "the only Navy coach who ever has beaten Army five straight."

The red-haired Hardin smiled and said: "Don't forget that Navy has only lost two bowl games in history, and I was the coach both times."

Ankle Injury Sidelines Stover

East Liverpool suffered a big blow to its basketball forces when Coach Jim Harris announced today that Randy Stover, the 6-4 pivot man for the Potters, would be lost to the squad for almost two weeks.

Stover hasn't practiced all week after spraining his ankle in practice last Saturday. Stover was involved in a jump ball and came down on the foot of another player and turned his ankle.

The loss of Stover puts a different outlook on the game with Oak Glen Friday night at Memorial Auditorium.

With Stover in the lineup the Potters had an edge in height but now Oak Glen will show a slight advantage in height.

Harris said Bill Hall will go into the pivot while Junior Frank Taylor will be moved into a starting spot. Harris hopes that Taylor can give the Potters some help in the rebounding department.

Rounding out the starting lineup will be Frank McComas, Bob Foranzo and Bob Maltarich. Maltarich will be East Liverpool's tallest player in the lineup at 6-1.

Utah Surprises Cincinnati, 87-68

Toledo Routs Kent State

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's about time for Utah basketball Coach Jack Gardner to start changing his tune.

The likeable coach of the Running Redskins had good reason for such preseason comments as these:

"We know we have a long way to go."

I can't be optimistic about this year compared with many others."

"We have to be considered in the role of underdogs."

Sure. It's very understandable. He had only one regular returning from last season's team, was loaded with sophomores and appeared to be hurting for size.

So now the Utes have an 11-1 record, finished their pre-conference season with a 87-68 upset of fourth-ranked Cincinnati Wednesday night and are gunning for national recognition.

The swift, spirited Utes barged out to a 39-31 halftime lead, increased the margin to 12 points after intermission then fought off a Cincinnati rally that closed to within two points, 66-64, with less than two minutes to go.

Then Utah's backcourt combo of Skip Kroeger and Doug Moon — who combined for 50 points—took over. Kroeger dropped in a field goal and Moon, the only returning regular, hit two free throws for a 70-64 margin and the Cincy charge was broken.

Kroeger had 26 points and Moon 24. George Wilson had 19, Ron Bonham 17 and Fritz Meyer, who sparked the Bearcats' rally, finished with 14.

The loss was the second in nine starts for Cincinnati and spoiled the start of a rugged Western trip. The Bearcats play tough Oregon State, ranked eighth in the nation, in a couple of games Friday and Saturday in Portland and Corvallis, Ore.

Only a handful of games were scheduled Wednesday as the colleges took a deep breath from the rigors of the holiday tourneys before jumping into conference play.

In the only other major games Georgia edged Alabama 49-47, Louisville romped over Marquette 85-67, Rhode Island upset Memphis State 68-66 and Toledo routed Kent State 75-57.

In winning their mid-American Conference opener, the Rockets' big three of Larry Jones, Ray Wolford and Jim Cox matched Kent State's entire scoring output. Jones had 24 points, Wolford 19 and Cox 14.

It was Toledo's eighth victory in 10 starts. Kent State (5-4) also was playing its first conference game.

Toledo hit 31 of 55 shots for 56 per cent, while Kent made only 24 of 66 for 36 per cent. Wilson Graham and Dan Norris topped Kent with 13 points apiece.

Besides the Cincinnati and Toledo games, only one other game was played involving Ohio teams Wednesday night. Kenyon College edged Kalamazoo (Mich.) 77-75 in the first game of a doubleheader at Holland, Mich.

Kenyon was led by Ken Klug with 23 points and Brian Farney with 22. In the other doubleheader game, Hope defeated Concordia of Illinois 77-66. The four teams meet again tonight at Kalamazoo with Hope playing Kenyon and Concordia meeting Kalamazoo.

North, South Squads Slate 2 Drills Today

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Two workouts were planned for both the North and South teams tod in preparation for Saturday's Senior Bowl football clash.

Both Coach George Wilson of the North and South tutor Tom Landry said their squads would be bolstered by the arrival of players who participated in New Year's Day bowl games.

The Yankees elected Boston College quarterback Jack Concannon and Holy Cross center Jon Morris as their co-captains.

The election Wednesday followed a 10-minute head-knocking pass protection drill.

Ex-Illinois Grid Star Killed In Chicago During Scuffle

CHICAGO (AP) — Law enforcement officials in nearby Du Page County today continued their investigation into the fatal shooting of a former University of Illinois football star at a New Year's Eve party in a bowling alley.

An argument and a scuffle involving a football star with the world champion Chicago Bears ended in tragedy after a policemen's bullet killed Tony Parrilli, 24, Illinois' most valuable grid player in 1961.

Investigators, who called the shooting accidental, are searching for an unidentified witness to help clear up conflicting accounts of the slaying in a suburban bowling alley washroom.

Robert Winthers, police chief in suburban Willowbrook, said his service revolver fired accidentally as he tried to break up a fight between Parrilli and an unidentified man.

The quarrel in the bowling alley, which is partly owned by Mike Ditka, Chicago Bears end, reportedly started after an argument over Sunday's National Football League championship game between the Bears and the New York Giants, won by the Bears.

The Du Page County state's attorney's office said a grand jury would be asked to consider whether Winthers was guilty of either involuntary manslaughter or reckless conduct. An inquest was continued to Jan. 20.

Chief Winthers said his pistol discharged as he used it to club the head of Bears fullback Joe Marconi. The bullet hit the 6-foot, 228-pound Parrilli in the head and he died almost instantly.

Winthers and Sgt. Stanley Lachta said they went to the washroom to quell a fist fight between Parrilli and the unidentified man who left in the confusion after the shooting.

"Winthers told me things were squared away in the washroom when Marconi came rushing in," said State's Atty. William J. Bauer. "Winthers said Marconi knocked Sgt. Lachta aside and it was then that he used the gun."

Eight stitches were required to close a gash on Marconi's head.

Marconi disputed the Winthers' version.

Browns Eye Air Lanes In Packer Tilt

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—In an attempt to develop offensive balance, the Cleveland Browns may throw the ball more than they usually do in Sunday's runnerup bowl clash with the Green Bay Packers.

Cleveland Coach Blanton Collier relied on a running attack to bring the Browns into second place in the Eastern Conference of the National Football League. One big reason was that he has Jim Brown, the game's greatest runner, and a fine counterweapon in halfback Ernie Green.

"We threw the fewest number of passes of any team in the league this season," Collier said Wednesday as the Browns took a light workout. "That indicates a lack of balance."

Cleveland used 322 passes, lowest in the league, and Green Bay was second lowest with 345 aerials. St. Louis was the passing leader with 438 attempts.

Green Bay also has a one-two running punch in fullback Jim Taylor, runnerup in the rushing race to Jim Brown, and halfback Tom Moore.

But the Browns have a strong respect for the Packers' passing attack, particularly with Bart Starr at the helm. The quarterback has fully recovered from his fractured hand.

"It seems that he is overlooked when people rate the league's fine quarterbacks," Collier said in discussing Starr. "I think he is underrated.

"I feel that he is a nearly perfect technical quarterback. He executes game plans to the finest details. Of course, he's helped by wonderful receivers.

"You won't run into three better ones than Boyd Dowler, Max McGee and Ron Kramer."

Collier hopes to carry the emphasis on Cleveland passing over to the 1964 season. He is higher than ever on Ohio State's Paul Warfield, the Brown's No. 1 draft pick, after watching him in the East-West game at San Francisco.

"Warfield showed me he has the makings of a pro as either a flanker or a defensive back," Collier said. "Our thinking now is that he'll start as a flanker."

Pro Contracts Waved After Orange Classic

By BEN FUNK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Nebraska's big Cornhuskers, playing before an eager audience of American and National Football League scouts, muscled their way to a 13-7 victory over smaller Auburn in the Orange Bowl Game New Year's Day.

And when the final whistle blew, professional contracts were waved in the faces of numerous players—especially the pro-size Cornhuskers—who had been forbidden until after the game from entering into negotiations in the play-for-pay leagues.

Nebraska needed all its muscle to save the win over Auburn against a fierce late surge led by Tigers quarterback Jimmy Sidle.

With two minutes to go, Sidle had the Tigers on the Nebraska 11 in a furious bid for a winning touchdown, but a fourth down pass was batted away and the Cornhuskers escaped with the first victory a Big Eight team ever scored over a Southeastern Conference foe in seven Orange Bowl games.

For a time, it appeared that Nebraska, the national champion rushing team, was going to use its 16-pounds-a-man weight advantage up front to crush the SEC runners-up.

On the second play, with a formation Nebraska designed for use in a short yardage situation, quarterback Dennis Claridge broke the bowl's record for a long run by speeding 68 yards to a touchdown.

Twice more in the first half, Nebraska thrust close to the Auburn goal to set up field goals by Dave Theisen of 31 and 36 yards. Up to then, with the Nebraska ends containing their wide runs, the Tigers hadn't made any kind of a threat.

But the second half was a vastly different story. Nebraska's awesome running attack began to crumble against the small but courageous Auburn line and Sidle finally found the way to get the Tigers moving.

Sidle hit Buck Waid with a 28-yard pass, then swept 13 yards wide to his left for the first touchdown that put Auburn back into the game with only a six-point deficit.

Weirton Five Stays On Top In Cage Poll

No one has yet devised a way to contain Weirton's hot-shooting Ron Williams, and while everyone is experimenting, the Red Riders continue to walk away with top billing in The Associated Press high school basketball poll.

As they have been all season, the Riders are rated No. 1 among scholastic teams. And this week, as every week except the season's first, Weirton collected every first place ballot from the panel of sports writers and sportscasters.

The schedule recently has been curtailed by the holidays, but nevertheless there was enough activity to cause some shuffling. Charleston was more active than most, defeating tough South Charleston 74-73 in overtime and posting an easier 92-74 victory over Beckley.

Those two games caused the following changes: Charleston advanced from sixth to third. South Charleston, unraked the previous week, was rated No. 7 and Beckley, rated fifth the week before, fell from the top 10.

St. Albans did not play and remained second. Logan and Welch, taking a holiday breather slipped from third and fourth to fourth and fifth.

The vacation helped Huntington move up from No. 7 to No. 6. Huntington East took over the eighth position, Princeton fell from eighth to ninth and a newcomer, Kermit, rounded out the top 10. Wheeling Central, ninth a week ago, disappeared from the list of leaders.

The top 10:

1. Weirton	100
2. St. Albans	84
3. Charleston	76
4. Logan	69
5. Welch	56
6. Huntington	42
7. South Charleston	28
8. Huntington East	25
9. Princeton	21
10. Kermit	13

Others receiving votes: Beckley, Wheeling Central, Stonewall Jackson, Gauley Bridge, Fairmont West, Ceredo-Kenova, Mullens.

Lowly Rangers Beat NHL's Leaders Again

By The Associated Press

No one could blame the Chicago Black Hawks, the National Hockey League leaders, if they would start to think the lowly New York Rangers have their number.

The fifth-place Rangers beat the Black Hawks 5-2 Wednesday night for their second consecutive victory over Chicago. New York built a 4-0 lead before Chicago dented goalie Jacques Plante's cage.

Utah Surprises Cincinnati, 87-68

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's about time for Utah basketball Coach Jack Gardner to start changing his tune.

The likeable coach of the Running Redskins had good reason for such preseason comments as these:

"We know we have a long way to go."

I can't be optimistic about this year compared with many others."

"We have to be considered in the role of underdogs."

Sure. It's very understandable. He had only one regular returning from last season's team, was loaded with sophomores and appeared to be hurting for size.

So now the Utes have an 11-1 record, finished their pre-conference season with a 87-68 upset of fourth-ranked Cincinnati Wednesday night and are gunning for national recognition.

The swift, spirited Utes barged out to a 39-31 halftime lead, increased the margin to 12 points after intermission then fought off a Cincinnati rally that closed to within two points, 66-64, with less than two minutes to go.

Then Utah's backcourt combo of Skip Kroeger and Doug Moon — who combined for 50 points—took over. Kroeger dropped in a field goal and Moon, the only returning regular, hit two free throws for a 70-64 margin and the Cincy charge was broken.

Kroeger had 26 points and Moon 24. George Wilson had 19, Ron Bonham 17 and Fritz Meyer, who sparked the Bearcats' rally, finished with 14.

The loss was the second in nine starts for Cincinnati and spoiled the start of a rugged Western trip. The Bearcats play tough Oregon State, ranked eighth in the nation, in a couple of games Friday and Saturday in Portland and Corvallis, Ore.

Only a handful of games were scheduled Wednesday as the colleges took a deep breath from the rigors of the holiday tourneys before jumping into conference play.

In the only other major games Georgia edged Alabama 49-47, Louisville romped over Marquette 85-67, Rhode Island upset Memphis State 68-66 and Toledo routed Kent State 75-57.

In winning their mid-American Conference opener, the Rockets' big three of Larry Jones, Ray Wolford and Jim Cox matched Kent State's entire scoring output. Jones had 24 points, Wolford 19 and Cox 14.

It was Toledo's eighth victory in 10 starts. Kent State (5-4) also was playing its first conference game.

Toledo Routs Kent State

Toledo hit 31 of 55 shots for 56 per cent, while Kent made only 24 of 66 for 36 per cent. Wilson Graham and Dan Norris topped Kent with 13 points apiece.

Besides the Cincinnati and Toledo games, only one other game was played involving Ohio teams Wednesday night. Kenyon College edged Kalamazoo (Mich.) 77-75 in the first game of a doubleheader at Holland, Mich.

Kenyon was led by Ken Klug with 23 points and Brian Farney with 22. In the other doubleheader game, Hope defeated Concordia of Illinois 77-66. The four teams meet again tonight at Kalamazoo with Hope playing Kenyon and Concordia meeting Kalamazoo.

North, South Squads Slate 2 Drills Today

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Two workouts were planned for both the North and South teams tod in preparation for Saturday's Senior Bowl football clash.

Both Coach George Wilson of the North and South tutor Tom Landry said their squads would be bolstered by the arrival of players who participated in New Year's Day bowl games.

The Yankees elected Boston College quarterback Jack Concannon and Holy Cross center Jon Morris as their co-captains.

The election Wednesday followed a 10-minute head-knocking pass protection drill.

Ex-Illinois Grid Star Killed In Chicago During Scuffle

An argument and a scuffle involving a football star with the world champion Chicago Bears ended in tragedy after a policemen's bullet killed Tony Parrilli, 24, Illinois' most valuable grid player in 1961.

Investigators, who called the shooting accidental, are searching for an unidentified witness to help clear up conflicting accounts of the slaying in a suburban bowling alley washroom.

Robert Winthers, police chief in suburban Willowbrook, said his service revolver fired accidentally as he tried to break up a fight between Parrilli and an unidentified man.

The quarrel in the bowling alley, which is partly owned by Mike Ditka, Chicago Bears end, reportedly started after an argument over Sunday's National Football League championship game between the Bears and the New York Giants, won by the Bears.

The Du Page County state's attorney's office said a grand jury would be asked to consider whether Winthers was guilty of either involuntary manslaughter or reckless conduct. An inquest was continued to Jan. 20.

Chief Winthers said his pistol discharged as he used it to club the head of Bears fullback Joe Marconi. The bullet hit the 6-foot, 228-pound Parrilli in the head and he died almost instantly.

Winthers and Sgt. Stanley Lachta said they went to the washroom to quell a fist fight between Parrilli and the unidentified man who left in the confusion after the shooting.

"Winthers told me things were squared away in the washroom when Marconi came rushing in," said State's Atty. William J. Bauer. "Winthers said Marconi knocked Sgt. Lachta aside and it was then that he used the gun."

Eight stitches were required to close a gash on Marconi's head.

Marconi disputed the Winthers' version.

More Of Farm Research Described As Necessity

WASHINGTON (AP) — More agricultural research rather than less is seen as a necessity by the Agriculture Department's Research Service at a time when farm surpluses—the outgrowth of research — plague farmers and the government.

An editorial in the service's Research Magazine said this need is based on (1) prospects that there will be 18 to 20 million more Americans by 1968, and (2) pressure for further reductions in cost of producing food as a means of raising farm income.

The service said the five-year outlook projects net income of farm operators in 1968 at a level 9 per cent below 1962.

"This is one of several dilemmas facing producers and their supporting agricultural research agencies—both public and private," the agency said.

Further research, it said, could show farmers how to produce various crops and livestock products at low enough cost to assure fair returns to producers and reasonable prices to consumers.

WASHINGTON (AP)— Stocks of Cuban tobacco have declined to about a two-year supply. This type tobacco is used in cigars and cigarillos.

Large stocks were imported before the government placed an embargo on shipments in 1960. Stocks remaining on last Oct. 1 totaled 19.2 million pounds, compared with 39.9 million on Oct. 1, 1961. Usage has been running about 10 million pounds a year.

Manufacturers have been turning to other countries for supplies of similar type tobacco. These countries include the Philippines, Colombia, the Dominican Republic, Brazil, Paraguay and Indonesia.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department reported today that consumption of electricity on the nation's farms continued to increase in 1963.

Farms used an average of 687 kilowatt-hours of electricity in June, an increase of 3 per cent over the average a year earlier.

The monthly bill paid by farmers for electricity used for all purposes averaged $15.60 in June, compared with $15 a year earlier.

The department said prices paid for electricity increased last year for the third consecutive year. Last June the average rate was 2.27 cents per kilowatt hour, up one cent from a year earlier.

Ohio BUC Reports Jobless Claims Boost

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Bureau of Unemployment Compensation today reported increases in both new and continuing claims during the week ended Dec. 28. Part of the increases were reported due to seasonal changes in the labor picture.

New claims increased from 23,325 in the week ended Dec. 21 to 25,062. Continuing claims of those unemployed one week or more increased from 89,540 to 98,390. In December of last year, there was an average of 22,548 new claims on file each week, while continuing claims then averaged 107,095 each week.

West Virginia Lists 2 Holiday Traffic Death

By The Associated Press

West Virginia squeaked through the 48-hour New Year's Holiday period with reports of only two traffic deaths.

The two victims brought the state's traffic death count for 1963 to 430 — three more than the previous year.

Edwin Yoho, 17, and Phillip Smith, 15, both of the Parkersburg area, were killed New Year's Eve in a single-car collision on a rural road near Parkersburg. Police said the car slid off an icy patch and slammed into a tree.

Dies Of Leukemia

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — James M. Rogers, 53, editor of the Asheville Times, died Wednesday. He had suffered from leukemia for four years.

THE NEW FIRST LADY

Mrs. Lyndon Baines Johnson

Lady Bird Johnson once admitted she's not deeply informed on political issues, but she's always been pretty much a part of Lyndon Johnson's political life, campaigning with him because she says "people feel they can get the measure of a man by taking a look at him and his family." Besides, "I love it."

Now, as the new mistress in the White House, she'll really feel the hot breath of politics. The social life involved will hold no terrors. For Lady Bird, the trim, attractive brunette with dark eyes and a soft Texas drawl, knew what all that meant when her husband was Vice President. During the time he held that post she was one of the capital's busiest and most popular hostesses.

Lady Bird married Lyndon Baines Johnson in 1934. She was 21 then and Lyndon, 26, was secretary to a Texas congressman. They have two daughters. Lynda Bird, 19, a student at the University of Texas, and Lucy Baines, 16, who attends school in Washington.

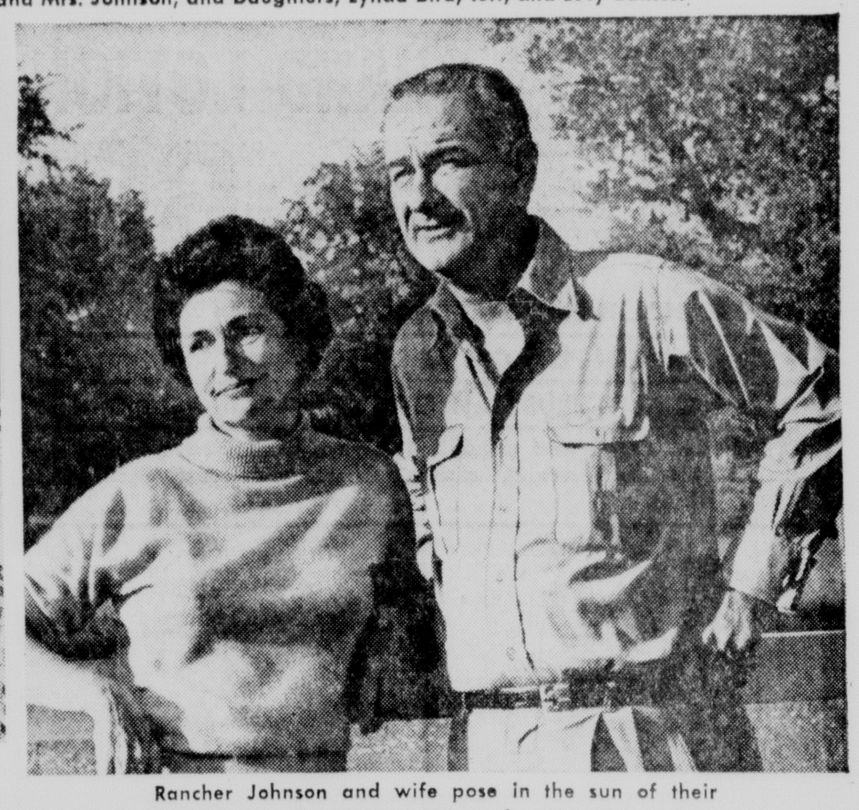

First official photo, in the White House, Thanksgiving Day, 1963. The President and Mrs. Johnson, and Daughters, Lynda Bird, left, and Lucy Baines.

When Lyndon was elected U.S. Senator, Nov. 2, 1948. They receive election returns by phone at their home in Austin, Tex.

Campaigning in St. Louis in 1962 for re-election of Democratic U.S. Senator Edward V. Long, she greets women Democratic party workers at reception in her honor.

Rancher Johnson and wife pose in the sun of their Texas home—the 300-acre LBJ ranch, near Johnson City.

In Greece during 1962 tour, Lady Bird walks arm in arm with Queen Frederika as Lyndon follows with King Paul and Premier Caramanlis, in back.

For High School Graduates

2 Years Of College Free Of Cost Is Recommended

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

FREE SCHOOLING: A commission of leading educators has recommended that two years of college should be available free of cost to all high school graduates.

"Unless opportunity for education beyond the high school can be made available to all, then the American promise of individual dignity and freedom cannot be extended to all," the Educational Policies Commission said in a statement Wednesday.

It emphasized that the two years should be directed primarily at intellectual growth, not vocational or technological training.

REFUGEES RESCUED: The Coast Guard reports it rescued almost 1,000 Cuban refugees in 1963.

The Coast Guard, also assigned the task of preventing hit-and-run raids on Cuba by exiles, said most of the refugees it picked up were on small islands along the route from Cuba, but that some were plucked from small boats.

—:—

FARM POVERTY: Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman says rural America is facing serious problems of low farm income and deep poverty.

These problems, Freeman said, affect 15 million persons in the nation's rural areas.

The secretary said in a New Year's statement that he is particularly concerned with the prospects of a drop in farm income this year and hoped Congress would enact legislation to bolster the market, price and income for producers of wheat, cotton and dairy products.

FOREIGN AID: Foreign aid officials believe they still have enough money for an economic aid program nearly the size of last year's despite Congress' $1.5 billion slash in new funds.

The funds available for overseas arms aid are down sharply from 1963. And the over-all money total for the current 12 months is $1.2 billion less than officials wanted.

What will ease the strain is the large carryover from money voted in past years. Officials of the Agency for International Development reported Wednesday that $669,876,000 is available for the previously voted funds that were never committed or that have been recovered from unfulfilled projects.

Driver Faces 2 Old Counts

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set a hearing Tuesday morning for Arliss Glenn Streets of Chester R. D. 1, who was taken into custody early this morning on two warrants that are nearly four months old.

Streets is accused of reckless driving and "wilfully resisting a police officer in the exercise of his lawful duties."

Signed by Patrolman Paul Blevins, the affidavits assert both violations occurred Sept. 13.

Arraigned today, Streets requested a continuance to obtain counsel. The judge then set the hearing date. He fixed bond at $100 to cover both charges. No plea was entered.

Blevins said he halted Streets at 6th St. and Dresden Ave. on a reckless driving charge. When he asked the motorist for his license, Streets said he did not have it in his possession, but would go and get it, the officer said. Then the motorist drove away, he said.

Police said Streets was taken into custody on the warrant at 1:15 a. m. today by Patrolmen J. A. Walsh and Howard E. Frontz.

Meanwhile, the judge imposed a fine of $5 and costs on Bill Olmstead of Lisbon St., cited on a charge he made an illegal turn at E. 5th and Washington Sts. at 4:25 p. m. Tuesday. Olmstead pleaded guilty. The judge suspended the fine on payment of costs.

Offer Of Free Funerals In Road Deaths Success

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — Radio station KFXM was satisfied today its New Year's Eve safety campaign—accented by offering free funerals to traffic victims — was a success.

None of the approximately 225 persons who signed up for the offer collected. The deadline was 12:01 a.m. Wednesday.

The San Bernardino-Riverside counties area which the station serves had no New Year's Eve traffic fatalities.

"We certainly consider it a success," said Bob Bunnell, station manager. "Only one person called up to complain that the idea was in bad taste. The others thought it was a great idea."

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP) — The Burlington Free Press said none of the 17 merrymakers who registered in its novel holiday safety promotion earned a free funeral.

The Free Press had offered a free funeral to anyone who planned to drink and drive on New Year's Eve.

This was the third year of the program for the newspaper and it has yet to pay off.

Bycroft Lists Dates Of Food Distribution

LISBON — County Welfare Director Robert Bycroft today announced dates for distribution of surplus food at five centers this month. The schedule follow:

Jan. 20—East Liverpool Central Fire Station; Jan. 21—East Palestine City Hall; Jan. 22—Salem City Hall; Jan. 23—Wellsville Jaycee Building, and Jan. 24—Lisbon Surplus Foods Warehouse.

Distribution hours at all locations will be 9 a. m. until noon, Bycroft said.

Want Full Value For Dollar Spent

Businessmen Prepared To Spend More In '64

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Like the federal government, businessmen are ready to spend more this year but are resolved to get full value for each dollar spent. And they say the times favor their economy drive.

Or, to put it in balance-sheet language, industrial experts expect more business this year and therefore are ready to spend more to get it. But at the same time they intend to keep a tight rein on their purse-strings and avoid excesses.

Many are reconciled to rising prices on some essential materials. And they say more of this now will have to be passed along, rather than absorbed by their suppliers as in the recent past.

Yet business as the new year starts shows little inclination to beat rising prices by running up stocks on hand. Corporate finance officers contend that new business techniques make this unnecessary.

Of 1,000 purchasing executives queried, in every important area of U.S. industry, 67 per cent told Purchasing Magazine their own company would spend more this year than last for materials and services. But 70 per cent said their sales would be better this year than in 1963.

The implication is that buying in 1964 will continue to be more for immediate use than for future needs. And 62 per cent of the purchasing men foresee their inventories holding this year at the 1963 level.

A buyer of steel notes changing techniques in recent years. "We can depend on the distributor to inventory for us and get the material here when we need it," he says. "His manufacturers do the same for him. The whole cycle from manufacturer to final user has been shortened considerably."

The corporate buyers expect to pay more this year than last for steel and steel products, nonferrous metals, paper, packaging materials, and electrical products.

The profit squeeze is one rason purchasing agents have had to revamp inventory techniques. Top management has stressed cost cutting, including the charges for carrying big stocks on hand. So now many industries live on a much more nearly hand-to-mouth basis than formerly.

If production and sales increase as most business executives now forecast, material stocks will have to be higher to keep more production flowing—but the percentage of inventories to sales will be kept as tight as possible.

Or so the purchasing executives are resolving today.

Marking Overthrow Of Batista

Castro Flashes Red-Built Arms In Gigantic Parade

HAVANA (AP)—Premier Fidel Castro rolls out his Soviet-built military hardware today at a huge parade marking the fifth anniversary of the overthrow of dictator Fulgencio Batista.

Thousands of Cubans are expected to watch the display of tanks, artillery and ground-to-air missiles.

Castro planned a major policy speech, probably pegged to his government's theme that 1964 is "the year of the economy," an all-out battle to increase production.

Visiting Communist delegates from Europe, Asia and Latin America were to join Castro on the parade reviewing stand. The Soviet delegation is led by Nikolai Podgorny, a secretary of the Soviet Communist party and a member of its Presidium.

In a new year's greeting to Castro, Soviet Premier Khrushchev and President Leonid Brezhnev promised:

"We again declare that revolutionary Cuba will not remain alone if it is attacked by United States aggressive military circles."

Castro said Wednesday night he believed President Kennedy was "beginning to think of the possibilities of normalization of relations" between the United States and Cuba before he was assassinated Nov. 22.

In a Havana-to-New York telephone interview with ABC he said he wanted to normalize Cuba's relations with the United States but "it belongs to the United States government to take the next step to help that normalization."

"But of course, it can never be over conditions of renouncing our political ideas," Castro said. "Never can we renounce our marxism."

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Dieter's Success Secret Is Pre-Planning

What does it take for a reluctant dieter to win through to a shining success? It takes enthusiasm . . . and a plan. "I planned my slimming campaign as carefully as an officer planning a battle," wrote the triumphant homemaker who made herself over at age 56. Here is her plan:

Ida Jean Kain

"Strange as it may seem, sitting down with myself and reasoning things out before I definitely decided to get busy on the problem was one of the best things I could have done. First, I faced facts, and I did not beat about the bush or spare myself. I looked at the problem from all sides. I, for the very first time, admitted to myself that I was fat, spineless and without will power. I was deeply ashamed of having let myself go. I considered the fact that the Bible tells us to be temperate in all things, and this meant food as well as anything else that might damage the body. I asked myself why I felt I had the right to criticize an alcoholic when I ate excessively.

"I GAVE MYSELF three days to form all my plans and make up my mind, for I resolved that this time, if I started at all, I would do the job all the way in the right way.

"First, I had my husband take flash pictures, close - up and profile. Now that was something! Then I had a professional picture taken. One in particular was absolutely disgraceful, I was so fat. These two pictures I cut out, so that just my big fat self was shown in outline . . . and fastened them on the wall directly in front of my place at table, where every time I reached for a bite of food I stared at that awful sight!

"Next, I went to the doctor for a physical. He gave me medicine for a thyroid deficiency and explained to me that the reason I had become so tired and weak at other times when I had tried to reduce was that I was deficient in thyroid.

"WELL, I WEIGHED IN at 174 pounds on Jan. 1, 1962. On that day I started counting calories faithfully. For the first week I stayed on 1,200 calories a day, then I cut down to 1,000 calories a day, and there I stayed. At first I tried a liquid diet, but very soon realized that it was just as easy to count calories and enjoy some good 'chewing' food and the satisfaction that came with it and at the same time learn new eating habits.

"I joined a small reducing club, seven of us, and every two weeks we got together and weighed and measured. A record was kept, with fines collected if we failed to lose. I never once had to pay a fine. I realized I needed exercise, and I started walking from two to four miles per day, never failing. And, much to my surprise, the inches simply melted off . . . ." Revelry, Prayer, Messages Of Peace Mark Start Of '64

Revelry, prayer and hopeful messages of peace marked the start of the new year around the world.

Times Square had its biggest crowd in years for the countdown to 1964 — an estimated 300,000. A few blocks away, 3,000 persons dined and danced in Grand Central Terminal in one of the largest New Year's Eve parties. It was a benefit ball for the National Association for Mental Health.

Fireworks illuminated the skies over the Berlin wall. Parisians leaned on automobile horns on the Champs Elysees. Spaniards ate 12 grapes at midnight. Italians threw crockery from windows. And residents of Buenos Aires tossed tons of ticker tape and old calendars from windows.

President Johnson waltzed out the old year at one of four parties he attended in Austin, Tex. He returned to his ranch near Johnson City, Tex., less than an hour later.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev raised a toast at a Kremlin party and sent traditional New Year's messages to world leaders.

Pope Paul VI began the new year with a Mass in his private chapel. At noon he told a throng of 30,000 in St. Peter's Square the new year "seems to inspire serene wishes of peace and well-being for all."

In Japan, temple bells tolled out the old year. Japanese offered traditional first prayers of the new year.

Three Persons Hurt As Building Collapses

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—A 3 - story building collapsed Wednesday and flying debris injured three persons in a passing automobile.

Police said heavy snow and ice caused the roof of the building to collapse.

Injured were Ira Wellman, 66, of Jamestown; his wife, Helen, 41, and their son, Daniel, 8. Firemen and police used hacksaws and crowbars to pry open the automobile and free them.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Dieter's Success Secret Is Pre-Planning

What does it take for a reluctant dieter to win through to a shining success? It takes enthusiasm . . . and a plan. "I planned my slimming campaign as carefully as an officer planning a battle," wrote the triumphant homemaker who made herself over at age 56. Here is her plan:

Ida Jean Kain

"Strange as it may seem, sitting down with myself and reasoning things out before I definitely decided to get busy on the problem was one of the best things I could have done. First, I faced facts, and I did not beat about the bush or spare myself. I looked at the problem from all sides. I, for the very first time, admitted to myself that I was fat, spineless and without will power. I was deeply ashamed of having let myself go. I considered the fact that the Bible tells us to be temperate in all things, and this meant food as well as anything else that might damage the body. I asked myself why I felt I had the right to criticize an alcoholic when I ate excessively.

"I GAVE MYSELF three days to form all my plans and make up my mind, for I resolved that this time, if I started at all, I would do the job all the way in the right way.

"First, I had my husband take flash pictures, close - up and profile. Now that was something! Then I had a professional picture taken. One in particular was absolutely disgraceful, I was so fat. These two pictures I cut out, so that just my big fat self was shown in outline . . . and fastened them on the wall directly in front of my place at table, where every time I reached for a bite of food I stared at that awful sight!

"Next, I went to the doctor for a physical. He gave me medicine for a thyroid deficiency and explained to me that the reason I had become so tired and weak at other times when I had tried to reduce was that I was deficient in thyroid.

"WELL, I WEIGHED IN at 174 pounds on Jan. 1, 1962. On that day I started counting calories faithfully. For the first week I stayed on 1,200 calories a day, then I cut down to 1,000 calories a day, and there I stayed. At first I tried a liquid diet, but very soon realized that it was just as easy to count calories and enjoy some good 'chewing' food and the satisfaction that came with it and at the same time learn new eating habits.

"I joined a small reducing club, seven of us, and every two weeks we got together and weighed and measured. A record was kept, with fines collected if we failed to lose. I never once had to pay a fine. I realized I needed exercise, and I started walking from two to four miles per day, never failing. And, much to my surprise, the inches simply melted off . . . ." Tomorrow: The Happy Ending.

Revelry, Prayer, Messages Of Peace Mark Start Of '64

By The Associated Press

Revelry, prayer and hopeful messages of peace marked the start of the new year around the world.

Times Square had its biggest crowd in years for the countdown to 1964 — an estimated 300,000. A few blocks away, 3,000 persons dined and danced in Grand Central Terminal in one of the largest New Year's Eve parties. It was a benefit ball for the National Association for Mental Health.

Fireworks illuminated the skies over the Berlin wall. Parisians leaned on automobile horns on the Champs Elysees. Spaniards ate 12 grapes at midnight. Italians threw crockery from windows. And residents of Buenos Aires tossed tons of ticker tape and old calendars from windows.

President Johnson waltzed out the old year at one of four parties he attended in Austin, Tex. He returned to his ranch near Johnson City, Tex., less than an hour later.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev raised a toast at a Kremlin party and sent traditional New Year's messages to world leaders.

Pope Paul VI began the new year with a Mass in his private chapel. At noon he told a throng of 30,000 in St. Peter's Square the new year "seems to inspire serene wishes of peace and well-being for all."

In Japan, temple bells tolled out the old year. Japanese offered traditional first prayers of the new year.

Three Persons Hurt As Building Collapses

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—A 3 - story building collapsed Wednesday and flying debris injured three persons in a passing automobile.

Police said heavy snow and ice caused the roof of the building to collapse.

Injured were Ira Wellman, 66, of Jamestown; his wife, Helen, 41, and their son, Daniel, 8. Firemen and police used hacksaws and crowbars to pry open the automobile and free them.

Schedule Meeting

COTONOU, Dahomey (AP)—A meeting between Niger and Dahomey officials on the frontier between the countries was scheduled today in an effort to solve their differences.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: As another booster of vinegar, I would like to give you a few tips as to the differences in vinegar:

There are essentially two kinds of vinegar, fruit vinegar and "distilled" vinegar.

The most common fruit vinegar in this country is apple cider vinegar but some wine vinegar is produced. These vinegars have flavors from the fruits in addition to the flavor of the acetic acid. They also have characteristic colors.

The distilled vinegar has no color and little, if any, flavor except that of the acetic acid. Sometimes caramel is added to give it a pleasing color, in which case it should be labeled "Colored Distilled Vinegar."

THERE IS no difference in strength among the kinds of vinegar. All contain about 5 per cent of acetic acid. However, any particular brand of vinegar, regardless of the kind, may be stronger or weaker than 5 per cent, so long as the strength is within legal limits (usually not less than 4 per cent) and the package is properly labeled.

The choice of white or colored, fruit or distilled vinegar depends on one's preference in color and flavor for the particular use, and on the price. Distilled vinegars usually cost least, wine vinegars more.

FOR CLEANING purposes one would ordinarily use the cheapest vinegar available (remembering that a 5 per cent vinegar at 50 cents a gallon is just as cheap as a 4 per cent vinegar at 40 cents a gallon); and for removing stains the white vinegar has the advantage of allowing one to see more easily whether all the stain is gone.

LEO B. ROBERTS.

DEAR FOLKS: How about that? Now when you see one brand cheaper than the other read the fine print and see what percentage it is and see what it is made of! The more expensive vinegar may be cheaper in the long run.

Also, the National Institute of Dry Cleaning states that anything safe in water is safe in white vinegar.

And don't we wish that we could buy our good old vinegar for 50 cents a barrel? Or better yet that we gals owned a factory?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: If you have unsightly scuff marks on the heels of your shoes . . . especially plastic heels . . . and no regular shoe polish will cover it . . . Buy a felt-tip marker (some come in as many as 13 different colors) at your stationery, dime or drug store. Use it on that mark. It will be covered up instantly.

MRS. AUDREY LINDER.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a great tip if your windows stick:

I have windows which move up and down and from season to season I used to find them stuck solid.

Now when I clean my windows, I take an old white candle and rub around the casing with the wax.

I move the windows up and down two or three times and this coats the close fitting parts with wax. Result? No more stuck windows for me.

DOLDIE BALDRIDGE.

-:-

DEAR HELOISE: I have figured out a time-saving way to paste trading stamps in the books.

Get an ice cube, place it on a piece of paper toweling which has been put in a sauce dish. The toweling keeps the ice from sliding.

Then run the glue side of the stamps over the ice cube and paste in book. It's a snap.

I. D.

Have you thought about placing your stamps on two or three paper towels (glue side up) and folding another piece of paper towel (or using a glove) to hold the ice cube and gently wiping the glued part of the stamp?

All one has to do then is pick up the sheet of stamps and slap it in the book.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a cooking hint I find very nice when baking meat loaf:

Place two slices of bread under your meat loaf before baking it and it saves the bottom of the loaf from being burned.

COLONEL DISPATCH.

Louie The Dip, Cleveland's 'Famed' Pickpocket, Dies

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland's best-known pickpocket, Louis Finkelstein—or Louie the Dip as he was called by police officers throughout the country is dead at 68. He was broke at the end.

His body was found in his automobile Wednesday on the East Side. Doctors said he died of a heart attack.

For 50 years, Finkelstein pursued his career of filching items from people's pockets. For a man who never hesitated to lift the wallet of even a police chief, Finkelstein was slowed down about 10 years ago when he was struck with arthritis. His fingers no longer were nimble and he applied for relief in 1959.

Police Inspector Michael J. Blackwell said Finkelstein must have "stolen thousands of dollars in his lifetime, but he died penniless."

In all, Finkelstein was arrested 120 times. He served more than 10 years in prisons as the result of 20 sentences.

In 1933 he put his hand into the pocket of the police chief of suburban Parma and walked away with a wallet. Another time he dipped into the pocket of a bail bondsman and once he stole the wallet of a news reporter covering one of his trials.

The U. S. Government once tried to deport him to his native Odessa, but there was no deportation agreement with Russia at the time.

Finkelstein touched off an investigation once at the city workhouse where he was serving a sentence. It was disclosed that he was "boss" of the workhouse, arranging steaks, pies and gambling games for prisoners with money.

He escaped from the workhouse and left a note behind. Officers found him at a revival meeting in New York State. Five wallets, including the sexton's, were in his pockets. He spent eight years in Sing Sing at Ossining, N. Y.

Rockefeller Has New Turbo-Prop Airplane

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has a new airplane that is geared to keep pace with his expanded political activity.

The Fairchild 27 turbo-prop, was purchased jointly about two weeks ago by the millionaire governor and his brothers, Laurance and David, a spokesman said Wednesday.

The spokesman said the plane has a range of about 2,000 miles, a top speed of about 300 miles an hour and can carry 22 passengers.

Rockefeller is seeking the Republican presidential nomination.

Strike Threat Against Bus Line Postponed

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—A threatened strike of drivers and mechanics against the Edwards Lakes-to-Seat Bus Line has been set back to Jan. 10. The strike by Local 1154, Amalgamated Transit Workers (AFL-CIO), originally was scheduled for 12:01 New Year's Day, but it was postponed after a special meeting between union and management Tuesday.

The line serves about 1,600 passengers daily in Pennsylvania, Ohio, New York and New Jersey. At issue is a new three-year contract.

Fumes Fatal To 2

MARION, Ohio (AP)—Carbon monoxide fumes caused the death of two men here Wednesday. The victims, Clarence C. Irick, 47, and a friend, William Franklin Brammer, 46, were found dead in Irick's home. Marion County Coroner Robert Gray said the two men died of fumes from a gas heater which had a closed vent.

Malaysia Hints Appeal To Help Build Up Defense

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — The Malaysian government is reported considering an appeal to Britain, Australia and New Zealand for military personnel to help build up defenses on its Borneo border with Indonesia.

Informed sources said the proposed request was discussed Wednesday night in an emergency cabinet meeting. Mostly technical personnel are wanted, to improve such facilities as communication lines in the jungles of the Borneo states of Sarawak and Sabah.

All three Commonwealth allies have pledged to defend Malaysia against Indonesian President Sukarno's campaign to smash the new federation. Britain already has sent several thousand troops to North Borneo.

The cabinet meeting was called to discuss the clash Sunday in Sabah, formerly British North Borneo, in which eight Malaysian soldiers and a civilian were killed and 19 troops and five civilians were injured. The attack 30 miles inside Malaysian territory was blamed on Indonesian army regulars.

Indonesia, which claims the Malaysia federation is a device to prolong British colonial rule in Southeast Asia, has admitted to training anti-Malaysian rebels on Borneo. But it claims its troops are not involved in any active aggression.

1.5 Million See Tournament Of Roses Parade

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The scent of roses lingered over Pasadena today from the millions of blossoms that gilded floats in the annual New Year's Day Tournament of Roses parade.

The flower-bedecked floats, marching bands and horses in gleaming trappings drew more than 1.5 million persons to the city. The parade also was televised nationally.

Former President and Mrs. Eisenhower were in the lead in a gleaming white convertible. He was grand marshal and a special guest at the Rose Bowl football game afterward.

Curbside watchers, including the celebrities in VIP boxes, basked under sunny skies and temperatures which soared into the 80's.

It was the first Rose parade for astronaut Col. John H. Glenn Jr. and his family. Other special guests were Chief Justice Earl Warren, former California governor, and Senate majority leader Mike Mansfield, D-Montana.

Sponsors estimated 10 million blossoms decorated the floats which they estimated cost $750,000.

People In News

NEW YORK (AP) — After James B. Donovan negotiated the release of 1,112 Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners from Cuban jails, the mother of one of them gave him a century-old cruficix.

Wednesday Donovan, a New York City lawyer, gave the crucifix to St. Francis College of Brooklyn.

Donovan said the Cuban woman "told me it had been kept in the family chapel for more than a century."

"When the (Fidel) Castro government took over their home, the family took it with them and hid it in a basement."

DENVER (AP)—Ed C. Johnson, former U.S. senator and governor of Colorado, observed his 80th birthday Wednesday.

Among messages arriving at Johnson's Denver apartment was a telegram from President Johnson.

LONDON (AP)—A Soviet intelligence officer who defected to the West has started a new life in Canada, official sources in London said.

The defector, Anatoli Golnytsin, sought asylum at the British mission in Ottawa in 1962. For 18 months, he was questioned by American and British agents.

London newspapers have said he unmasked two major spies: William John Vassall, ex-Admiralty clerk now serving 18 years in prison, and Harold Philby, former British Foreign Office man who fled to Moscow.

LONDON (AP)—Peter Torneycroft, Britain's minister of defense, began a 16-day tour of the Middle and Far East today. His first stop was Aden.

Claimed At 85

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Lionel B. Moses Sr., 85, vice president of Parade magazine, a Sunday newspaper supplement, from 1947 until 1962, died Wednesday.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: As another booster of vinegar, I would like to give you a few tips as to the differences in vinegar:

There are essentially two kinds of vinegar, fruit vinegar and "distilled" vinegar.

The most common fruit vinegar in this country is apple cider vinegar but some wine vinegar is produced. These vinegars have flavors from the fruits in addition to the flavor of the acetic acid. They also have characteristic colors.

The distilled vinegar has no color and little, if any, flavor except that of the acetic acid. Sometimes caramel is added to give it a pleasing color, in which case it should be labeled "Colored Distilled Vinegar."

THERE IS no difference in strength among the kinds of vinegar. All contain about 5 per cent of acetic acid. However, any particular brand of vinegar, regardless of the kind, may be stronger or weaker than 5 per cent, so long as the strength is within legal limits (usually not less than 4 per cent) and the package is properly labeled.

The choice of white or colored, fruit or distilled vinegar depends on one's preference in color and flavor for the particular use, and on the price. Distilled vinegars usually cost least, wine vinegars more.

FOR CLEANING purposes one would ordinarily use the cheapest vinegar available (remembering that a 5 per cent vinegar at 50 cents a gallon is just as cheap as a 4 per cent vinegar at 40 cents a gallon); and for removing stains the white vinegar has the advantage of allowing one to see more easily whether all the stain is gone.

LEO B. ROBERTS.

DEAR FOLKS: How about that? Now when you see one brand cheaper than the other read the fine print and see what percentage it is and see what it is made of! The more expensive vinegar may be cheaper in the long run.

Also, the National Institute of Dry Cleaning states that anything safe in water is safe in white vinegar.

And don't we wish that we could buy our good old vinegar for 50 cents a barrel? Or better yet that we gals owned a factory?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: If you have unsightly scuff marks on the heels of your shoes . . . especially plastic heels . . . and no regular shoe polish will cover it . . . Buy a felt-tip marker (some come in as many as 13 different colors) at your stationery, dime or drug store. Use it on that mark. It will be covered up instantly.

MRS. AUDREY LINDER.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a great tip if your windows stick:

I have windows which move up and down and from season to season I used to find them stuck solid.

Now when I clean my windows, I take an old white candle and rub around the casing with the wax.

I move the windows up and down two or three times and this coats the close fitting parts with wax. Result? No more stuck windows for me.

DOLDIE BALDRIDGE.

DEAR HELOISE: I have figured out a time-saving way to paste trading stamps in the books.

Get an ice cube, place it on a piece of paper toweling which has been put in a sauce dish. The toweling keeps the ice from sliding.

Then run the glue side of the stamps over the ice cube and paste in book. It's a snap.

I. D.

Have you thought about placing your stamps on two or three paper towels (glue side up) and folding another piece of paper towel (or using a glove) to hold the ice cube and gently wiping the glued part of the stamp?

All one has to do then is pick up the sheet of stamps and slap it in the book.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a cooking hint I find very nice when baking meat loaf:

Place two slices of bread under your meat loaf before baking it and it saves the bottom of the loaf from being burned.

COLONEL DISPATCH.

Louie The Dip, Cleveland's 'Famed' Pickpocket, Dies

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland's best-known pickpocket, Louis Finkelstein—or Louie the Dip as he was called by police officers throughout the country is dead at 68. He was broke at the end.

His body was found in his automobile Wednesday on the East Side. Doctors said he died of a heart attack.

For 50 years, Finkelstein pursued his career of filching items from people's pockets. For a man who never hesitated to lift the wallet of even a police chief, Finkelstein was slowed down about 10 years ago when he was struck with arthritis. His fingers no longer were nimble and he applied for relief in 1959.

Police Inspector Michael J. Blackwell said Finkelstein must have "stolen thousands of dollars in his lifetime, but he died penniless."

In all, Finkelstein was arrested 120 times. He served more than 10 years in prisons as the result of 20 sentences.

In 1933 he put his hand into the pocket of the police chief of suburban Parma and walked away with a wallet. Another time he dipped into the pocket of a bail bondsman and once he stole the wallet of a news reporter covering one of his trials.

The U. S. Government once tried to deport him to his native Odessa, but there was no deportation agreement with Russia at the time.

Finkelstein touched off an investigation once at the city workhouse where he was serving a sentence. It was disclosed that he was "boss" of the workhouse, arranging steaks, pies and gambling games for prisoners with money.

He escaped from the workhouse and left a note behind. Officers found him at a revival meeting in New York State. Five wallets, including the sexton's, were in his pockets. He spent eight years in Sing Sing at Ossining, N. Y.

Rockefeller Has New Turbo-Prop Airplane

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has a new airplane that is geared to keep pace with his expanded political activity.

The Fairchild 27 turbo-prop, was purchased jointly about two weeks ago by the millionaire governor and his brothers, Laurance and David, a spokesman said Wednesday.

The spokesman said the plane has a range of about 2,000 miles, a top speed of about 300 miles an hour and can carry 22 passengers.

Rockefeller is seeking the Republican presidential nomination.

Strike Threat Against Bus Line Postponed

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—A threatened strike of drivers and mechanics against the Edwards Lakes-to-Seat Bus Line has been set back to Jan. 10. The strike by Local 1154, Amalgamated Transit Workers (AFL-CIO), originally was scheduled for 12:01 New Year's Day, but it was postponed after a special meeting between union and management Tuesday.

The line serves about 1,600 passengers daily in Pennsylvania, Ohio, New York and New Jersey. At issue is a new three-year contract.

Fumes Fatal To 2

MARION, Ohio (AP)—Carbon monoxide fumes caused the death of two men here Wednesday. The victims, Clarence C. Irick, 47, and a friend, William Franklin Brammer, 46, were found dead in Irick's home. Marion County Coroner Robert Gray said the two men died of fumes from a gas heater which had a closed vent.

Malaysia Hints Appeal To Help Build Up Defense

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — The Malaysian government is reported considering an appeal to Britain, Australia and New Zealand for military personnel to help build up defenses on its Borneo border with Indonesia.

Informed sources said the proposed request was discussed Wednesday night in an emergency cabinet meeting. Mostly technical personnel are wanted, to improve such facilities as communication lines in the jungles of the Borneo states of Sarawak and Sabah.

All three Commonwealth allies have pledged to defend Malaysia against Indonesian President Sukarno's campaign to smash the new federation. Britain already has sent several thousand troops to North Borneo.

The cabinet meeting was called to discuss the clash Sunday in Sabah, formerly British North Borneo, in which eight Malaysian soldiers and a civilian were killed and 19 troops and five civilians were injured. The attack 30 miles inside Malaysian territory was blamed on Indonesian army regulars.

Indonesia, which claims the Malaysia federation is a device to prolong British colonial rule in Southeast Asia, has admitted to training anti-Malaysian rebels on Borneo. But it claims its troops are not involved in any active aggression.

1.5 Million See Tournament Of Roses Parade

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The scent of roses lingered over Pasadena today from the millions of blossoms that gilded floats in the annual New Year's Day Tournament of Roses parade.

The flower-bedecked floats, marching bands and horses in gleaming trappings drew more than 1.5 million persons to the city. The parade also was televised nationally.

Former President and Mrs. Eisenhower were in the lead in a gleaming white convertible. He was grand marshal and a special guest at the Rose Bowl football game afterward.

Curbside watchers, including the celebrities in VIP boxes, basked under sunny skies and temperatures which soared into the 80's.

It was the first Rose parade for astronaut Col. John H. Glenn Jr. and his family. Other special guests were Chief Justice Earl Warren, former California governor, and Senate majority leader Mike Mansfield, D-Montana.

Sponsors estimated 10 million blossoms decorated the floats which they estimated cost $750,000.

People In News

NEW YORK (AP) — After James B. Donovan negotiated the release of 1,112 Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners from Cuban jails, the mother of one of them gave him a century-old cruficix.

Wednesday Donovan, a New York City lawyer, gave the crucifix to St. Francis College of Brooklyn.

Donovan said the Cuban woman "told me it had been kept in the family chapel for more than a century."

"When the (Fidel) Castro government took over their home, the family took it with them and hid it in a basement."

DENVER (AP)—Ed C. Johnson, former U.S. senator and governor of Colorado, observed his 80th birthday Wednesday.

Among messages arriving at Johnson's Denver apartment was a telegram from President Johnson.

LONDON (AP)—A Soviet intelligence officer who defected to the West has started a new life in Canada, official sources in London said.

The defector, Anatoli Golnytsin, sought asylum at the British mission in Ottawa in 1962. For 18 months, he was questioned by American and British agents.

London newspapers have said he unmasked two major spies: William John Vassall, ex-Admiralty clerk now serving 18 years in prison, and Harold Philby, former British Foreign Office man who fled to Moscow.

LONDON (AP)—Peter Tornevcroft, Britain's minister of defense, began a 16-day tour of the Middle and Far East today. His first stop was Aden.

Claimed At 85

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Lionel B. Moses Sr., 85, vice president of Parade magazine, a Sunday newspaper supplement, from 1947 until 1962, died Wednesday.

QUESTION: How was the Rosetta Stone discovered and how was its secret solved?

ANSWER: For thousands of years, scholars puzzled over the strange picture writing of the ancient Egytians, called "hieroglyphic." There was no clue to what these symbols meant.

Then Napoleon invaded Egyt, and in 1799 one of his officers came across something remarkable partly buried in mud near a place called Rosetta. Across the top was an inscription in Egyptian hieroglyphic. Below this was another in Demotic, a popular ancient Egyptian language. Below this was still another inscription, in Greek. The officer guessed that these might mean the same, and if so, the stone might be a clue to finding the meaning of hieroglyphic. He had the stone removed and put in the hands of experts.

Jean Francois Champollion, a French scholar, devoted himself to the study of the stone. He translated the Greek part and found places where names were introduced. Then he found the same places in the hieroglyphic and so was able to learn the meaning of some of the pictures. He was an expert in modern Egypian and found certain resemblances which gave him still more information. But it was not until 1822 that the meaning of all the ancient symbols was completely understood.
